The Philadelphia Eagles announced their full training camp schedule for this summer which begins with all players reporting to the NovaCare Complex on Friday, July 25. This year's training camp features three open practices, including one on Sunday, August 10 at historic Franklin Field, the home of the Eagles from 1958-70. "We are looking forward to another summer of Eagles football in Philadelphia," said Eagles President Don Smolenski. "We remain committed to providing our fans a fun atmosphere as they get an up-close look at our team, including what we think will be a special day at Franklin Field."

There will be additional private practices held at the NovaCare Complex that will be open to a limited number of Eagles season ticket members randomly selected from every section of the stadium. Start times for the open practices are slated for 12:15 pm, while the practice sessions at the NovaCare Complex are scheduled to begin at 11:45 pm.

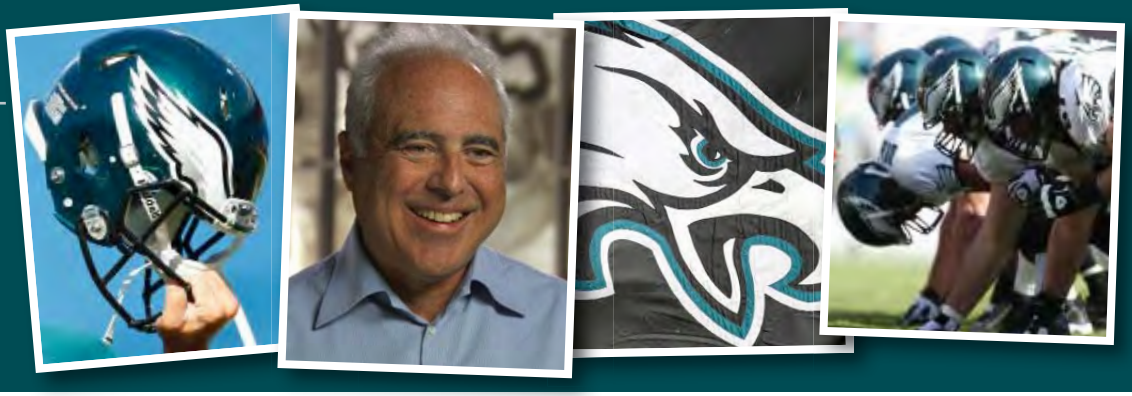
Bolded and Underlined Opponent - win ... d - clinched division title ... p - clinched playoff berth ... e - eliminated from playoff contention

Jeffrey Lurie

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer



Jeffrey Lurie, longtime Eagles owner and chairman, is defined by his accomplishments both on and off the field - accomplishments which when taken together reveal how hard he has worked for excellence.

Taking over a football franchise in 1994 that made the playoffs just 14 times in a 62-year span (23%), the Eagles have been a perennial contender under Lurie, earning playoff berths in 12 of his 19 years as owner (63%). Off the field, his stewardship of Screen Pass Pictures has garnered two Academy Awards since 2010. And, under his guidance, the Eagles have become leaders with their charitable and environmental efforts in the community.

Along the way, Lurie has earned the respect of NFL's top hierarchy as he serves on the NFL's Finance Committee, Broadcast Committee, Stadium Committee, International Committee and the Super Bowl Advisory Committee.

The Eagles have a greater overall winning percentage and appeared in more playoff games (23) and won more (11) than any other ownership group in team history.

In 2013, Lurie hired renowned University of Oregon head coach Chip Kelly to be the 21st head coach in franchise history. Coach Kelly replaced Andy Reid, the all-time winningest coach in franchise history, who Lurie hired in 1999. In his first season, Kelly led the Eagles to the 2013 NFC East division title, setting franchise records in points (442), total net yards (6,676), touchdowns (53) and passing yards (4,406), while also turning the ball over fewer times (19) than any other squad in team history.

Later that year, Screen Pass Pictures earned its second Academy Award for Inocente, in the category of Best Documentary Short. Their first came in 2010 for Inside Job which earned the Academy Award for Best Documentary Feature.

One of Lurie's charitable endeavors was the creation of Eagles Youth Partnership (EYP), the team's non-profit, charitable wing. Since its inception in 1995, EYP has developed into one of the most innovative and dynamic non-profit organizations in Philadelphia, winning awards internationally for its sports philanthropy.

Eagles Youth Partnership won the coveted 2011 Sport Team of the Year Award by Beyond Sport, a global organization that promotes, develops and funds the use of sport to create positive social change across the world, for its campaigns"Tackling Breast Cancer" and "Go Green!".

The Philadelphia Business Journal honored the Eagles as one of Philadelphia's top charitable corporations in 2010. "That giving attitude made them a winner in every category of the Corporate Philanthropy Awards."

The "Go Green!" program serves to better the environment by creating and sustaining programs that improve the quality of life in the Philadelphia region, green the environment and reduce the team's impact on the planet. Lurie and Christina Weiss Lurie received the 2008 Ongoing Commitment Award from the Environmental Media Association for their efforts.

Lurie is a director of the NLM Family Foundation, which devotes much of its resources to autism research and education. NLM co-funded a short documentary film entitled Autism Is A World that received a nomination for a 2005 Academy Award.

"Those who have autism are wonderful people, usually highly intelligent, sweet and caring. They are often unable to effectively communicate with others. A great deal more research needs to be done."

Prior to entering business, Lurie served as an adjunct assistant professor of social policy at Boston University. Don Smolenski

President

Don Smolenski, a longtime leader in the Eagles front office and a veteran sports executive, was named the club's president in June 2012. His promotion capped a steady rise through the executive ranks of the Eagles organization.

As President, Smolenski directs the club's business and strategic efforts, including sales, marketing, communications and operations. He is known for his collaborative, easygoing style, financial acumen and long-term view and for playing a key role in significant projects from the construction of Lincoln Financial Field to the club's internationally recognized environmental and philanthropic programs.

During his first year as President, Smolenski infused energy throughout the organization with his engaging leadership style. He embarked on a two-year, $125 million revitalization plan to Lincoln Financial Field and aided Eagles chairman Jeffrey Lurie and general manager Howie Roseman on the team's search for a new head coach - a process that landed Oregon head coach Chip Kelly. He also spearheaded a plan that relocated the team's training camp to Philadelphia for the first time since 1943.

The stadium revitalization plan, like others, was a direct result of his numerous conversations with Eagles fans, an initiative that fuels Smolenski's drive as one of the key stewards of the franchise.

Smolenski is also a driving force in the team's environmental initiatives. Through its Go Green! program, the Eagles have emerged as a leader in environmental stewardship. The team has become a green leader in the sports industry through its conservation efforts, recycling programs, and use of renewable energy. In fact, his efforts have made Lincoln Financial Field one of the greenest sports stadium in the world with the installation of solar panels and wind turbines in 2012.

Smolenski joined the Eagles in 1998 as the club's Chief Financial Officer and was later promoted to Senior Vice President/Chief Financial Officer. In 2010 he was named the club's Chief Operating Officer.

Don is a member of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and sits on the board of the Philadelphia Sports Congress. He is the treasurer of Eagles Youth Partnership and is involved with Leadership Philadelphia, a non-profit organization that promotes leadership and community involvement in the city of Philadelphia.

Before joining the Eagles, Smolenski served as Chief Financial Officer for the International Hockey League, where he oversaw all league financial matters and played an integral role in the expansion of the league. Through the development of expansion models and the analysis of league performance models, Smolenski saw the league grow from 12 to 19 teams.

Smolenski began his career as a public accountant with Arthur Andersen.

An avid athlete and outdoor enthusiast, Smolenski has completed the Detroit, Pittsburgh and Boston Marathons, and recently completed his first triathlon. He earned his BA in biology from Amherst College and a Master's in accounting from the University of Hartford. Don and his wife, Karen, have two sons, Jake and Shane.

Howie Roseman

General Manager

Howie Roseman is in his 15th season in Philadelphia and his fifth as the Eagles general manager after being promoted to his current post on January 29, 2010. Roseman spent the previous two seasons as the team's vice president of player personnel.

Known as one of the most aggressive general managers in the league, Roseman has earned a reputation for seeking any edge he can find to field the best team.

Roseman oversees the college and pro scouting departments, the team's medical, equipment, video and player development staffs, while serving as the steward of the salary cap.

He played a vital role assisting Eagles chairman Jeffrey Lurie in the team's search for a new head in 2013, which ultimately brought renowned Oregon coach Chip Kelly east to Philadelphia.

"He's one of the brightest young guys in the league," said Eagles chairman Jeffrey Lurie. "I'm very excited about what he brings to the table. He has assembled an excellent team around him. He's meticulous in his evaluations. He has great relationships with players, coaches and agents around the league."

Over the last couple of years, Roseman has configured what many observers have coined a strong scouting staff with a blend of experienced scouts and a young core of talent.

"You have to give him a lot of credit for that, because there are a lot of young guys who wouldn't do that," former NFL GM and current Eagles senior football advisor Tom Donahoe said. "They'd feel threatened by it. They would feel a little bit intimidated by it. But Howie's only interested in getting the best group of scouts that he can. He values our opinion. We don't always agree, but that's part of scouting."

In the first year of his new role in 2010, Roseman oversaw a major overhaul of the roster, making it one of the youngest in the NFL. That revamped Eagles squad earned an NFC East division championship.

His tenacity, creativity and ability to develop and nurture positive relationships in every part of his job has played a significant role in Roseman's ascent within the Eagles organization. He has an endless tank of energy that defines his personality and fuels his quest for a Super Bowl championship.

The youngest GM in the league, Roseman (39 years old) says it has been his dream to be an NFL general manager since he was a kid. "When I was 9 or 10 [years old], people would ask what I wanted to be when I grew up and I told them I wanted to be the general manager of an NFL team."

After relentlessly pursuing jobs in the front office of an NFL team, Roseman finally got his foot in the door with the Eagles in 2000 as salary cap/staff counsel, and eventually worked his way up to his dream job.

Roseman was elevated to director of football administration in 2003 and to vice president of football administration in 2006. In this role, Roseman worked in the personnel department evaluating players around the NFL and for the draft. He also represented the team to the NFL on contract, salary cap, and player personnel matters.

In 2007, Roseman was invited to participate in the NFL-Stanford Program for managers at the Stanford Graduate School of Business, a program developed by the NFL to promote development of leaders within the league.

Roseman is also active in the Philadelphia-area community, contributing to a variety of initiatives involving military and children. In fact, he was named Honorary Commander for the Joint Base McGuire-Dix-Lakehurst for his continued efforts with the military. His charitable endeavors have benefited the Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation, the Boys & Girls Clubs of America, USA Football, Pop Warner and Cop Wheels.

Born in Brooklyn, NY, Roseman earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Florida before earning a JD degree from Fordham Law School. Howie and his wife, Mindy, reside in suburban Philadelphia with their four children.

Chip Kelly

Head Coach

2nd year in NFL / 2nd in Philadelphia
College: New Hampshire

Chip Kelly was named head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles on January 16, 2013 after a successful four-year reign manning the sidelines at the University of Oregon.

In his first season in professional football, Kelly produced a 10-6 record and an NFC East championship, becoming just the second head coach in league history to win a division title in his first season in the NFL. Along the way, the Eagles set a plethora of team records, including points (442), total net yards (6,676), touchdowns (53), passing yards (4,406) and fewest turnovers (19). The Eagles also set an NFL record with 99 plays of 20+ yards and became the first team since the 1991 Buffalo Bills to lead the league in rushing while ranking last in time of possession.

His four-year tenure at Oregon produced a 46-7 (.868) overall record and transformed that university into one of the nation's premiere football destinations.

Amidst Kelly's meteoric rise, he became the first coach in Oregon's history to guide the program to three undisputed conference championships from 2009-12. Additionally, the Ducks made an appearance in a BCS Bowl game in each of Kelly's four seasons as head coach. In just Kelly's second season, Oregon earned a trip to the BCS National Championship game in 2010.

In his four seasons at Oregon, the Ducks scored a whopping 44.7 points per game. They also led the FBS in big plays, including 25-yard passing plays (220) and 25-yard rushes (110).

His 2012 Ducks squad finished 12-1 and ranked fourth in total offense accumulating nearly 7,000 yards while scoring an average of 49.6 points per game. They rushed for 315.2 yards per game while ranking fifth, averaging 537.4 total yards.

Known as a football junkie, Kelly has a matter-of-fact leadership style in addition to his mastery of the spread offense. Following Oregon's run at a potential national title in 2010, Kelly's leadership was recognized with a multitude of Coach of the Year awards from outlets such as Associated Press, Sporting News, The Walter Camp Football Foundation, and other postseason titles including the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year, AFCA Coach of the Year, and Pac-10 Coach of the Year.

Prior to taking over as Oregon's head coach, Kelly spent two seasons as the team's offensive coordinator. In his first season leading the team's offense, the Ducks were forced into playing four different starting quarterbacks during the final four games of 2007. Kelly's plug-and-play style was cemented when the team had an impressive 56-21 Sun Bowl victory over South Florida.

Before joining Oregon's program, Kelly served as New Hampshire's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach from 1999-2006. His offenses at his alma mater averaged better than 400 yards of total offense in seven of his eight seasons and more than 30 points per game in his final four years. As a result, three Wildcat players received first-team All-America acclaim each of his last two seasons in the Granite State. In 2006, junior QB Ricky Santos earned the Walter Payton Award as the most outstanding players in FCS.

Ironically, Kelly got his first taste of coaching in the college ranks on the defensive side of the ball with Columbia in 1990. And in 1993, he was named the defensive coordinator at Johns Hopkins.

A product of the University of New Hampshire, Kelly earned a bachelor's degree in physical education. He played quarterback and defensive back for legendary coach Bill Bowes at UNH from 1981-84.

The third of four boys, Kelly attended Manchester (NH) Central High School and starred in football and track. Kelly, whose first love was hockey, played in the Manchester Regional Youth Hockey Association, and also made time for the local CYO basketball team.

Charles Kelly was born in Dover, NH, on November 25, 1963 and is the son of Paul and Jean Kelly. Paul is a retired trial lawyer.

94 Beau Allen

Defensive Tackle
6-2, 333
Wisconsin
Rookie
Born 11/14/91 in St. Louis Park, MN
Minnetonka HS, Minnetonka, MN
Acquired - D7b-14 (224th overall)

A four-year letterwinner from the University of Wisconsin, Beau Allen was a seventh-round draft pick of the Eagles in the 2014 NFL Draft. Having never missed a game in his college career, Allen finished with 94 tackles (15 TFLs) and eight sacks en route to becoming a three-time Academic All-Big Ten choice (2011-13) and a two-time consensus All-Big Ten honorable mention (2012-13). A native of Minnetonka, MN, his grandfather, Fred T. Westphal, was a six-time All-American as a member of the Wisconsin swim team from 1956-59.

BIRDSEED

- Claims his football career was most influenced by his position coach in college, Charlie Partridge, who is currently the head coach at Florida Atlantic University. "I thought he was a great coach and I had a lot of respect for him and the way he went about his business. I think he taught us the right way. Coach Azzinaro reminds me a lot of him"
- Underrated attribute needed to be a successful nose tackle: "I think you have to be smart to be a nose guard, especially in this scheme. From everything I've learned so far, there are a lot of different calls, a lot of different responsibilities. You can really help yourself by knowing pre-snap what's going on and being an aware football player. I think that can really help. I think when people think of nose guards, they just think of some big, dumb, brawny guy taking up space, but they are doing a lot more than what people actually know"
- Allen's first job was at a pizza and pasta restaurant in Minnesota named Detello's. "It was a place right by my house. It's a mom and pop shop that we went to all the time growing up, so I worked there. I got the job after my freshman year and before I got the job, I was probably like 270 pounds. There was a deal where you could make a meal for yourself the night you worked, so that summer, I probably gained about 30 pounds and got above 300. I love that place. Every time I go home, I go back there"
- Was in a band from 7th through 9th grade and played the bass guitar

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Finished second on the team with four sacks as a sophomore in 2011, in addition to 22 tackles (5.5 TFLs) in 14 games played
- Saw action in all 13 games as a freshman in 2010, collecting 15 tackles

BIRDSEED

- Credits his father, Jackie, with having the greatest influence on his life and career. Jackie played professional basketball in Europe and now coaches at Ft. Myers Middle School, where he also works security. "He's always been my role model, and he instilled in me the value of working hard and putting the Lord first in everything you do."
- Played every position while in Pop Warner football, and said people began to notice him because he was always in the mix on every play. "People tell me that when I started playing, I would be the kicker on a kickoff and I would beat everyone down the field by a long stretch to make a tackle."
- In a lifetime of unforgettable moments and breakthrough performances on the field, one play in particular stands out for Allen. "My first career interception in my very first NFL game. It was a surreal feeling to be out on the field that day, but what made it even more memorable was the fact that I picked off [Packers QB] Aaron Rodgers in the fourth quarter."
- Since his rookie year, Allen's F.L.Y. High Youth Football Camp has given the Cape Coral community an opportunity to take part in an organized football experience with the NFL veteran. For more information, please visit flyhighcamp.com

You have to be able to think quick on your feet because you are the quarterback of the defense and have to help everyone line up. We rely on reads both before and during the play to decode what the offense is doing."

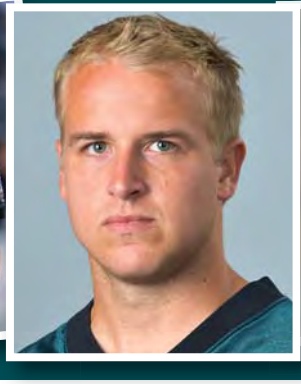
Quarterback
6-2, 227
USC
2nd year
Born 9/8/90 in Newport Beach, CA
Mater Dei HS, Santa Ana, CA
Acquired - D4-13 (98th overall)



The all-time leading passer in Pac-12 Conference and USC history, Matt Barkley is in his second season in Philadelphia after being drafted in the fourth round in 2013. A four-year starter for the Trojans, he finished his career with over 12,000 passing yards and became the only player in conference history to throw for over 100 touchdowns (116) in a career. Barkley was also a four-year starter in high school at Mater Dei High School as he went on to become the first freshman QB to start since Todd Marinovich in 1985.

BIRDSEED

Barkley and Louie Zamperini

- While at USC, Barkley became friends with the late Louie Zamperini, a former Olympic track star who survived a plane crash in the Pacific Ocean, spent 47 days drifting on a raft and then more than two and a half years as a prisoner of war in several brutal Japanese internment camps during World War II. His story was told in the best-selling book, Unbroken, and is the subject of a motion picture. Recalled Barkley, "We actually watched the 2010 Winter Olympics together. Talking to him, you can see and hear his determination to never give up. He's an amazing man who is very humble about his accomplishments. People forget that he was one of the best athletes of his era."
- Along with many NFL QBs, Barkley has worked with former USC and MLB pitcher Tom House with his throwing mechanics and shoulder warm up exercises. Said Barkley, "One of his best lessons is warming up to throw instead of throwing to warm up." House, a coach at USC, caught Hank Aaron's 500th home run as he was standing in the Braves bullpen
- His father, Les, was the captain of the USC water polo squad as he played the grueling sport for four years (1976-79) and earned second-team All-American honors as a senior. His younger brother, Sam, was a hurdler on USC's track team, while his cousin, Robbie Boyer, played football at USC and recorded his only reception on a pass from Barkley in the season finale in 2011

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- As the Eagles 3rd QB, saw action in three games: vs. Dal (10/20) in place of an injured Nick Foles, vs. NYG (10/27) in place of an injured Michael Vick, and in an Eagles rout at Oak (11/4) after Foles departed with an NFL-record 7 TD passes. In all, Barkley completed 61% of his passes for 300 yards

73 Karim Barton

Guard
6-2, 313
Morgan St.
Rookie
Born 12/13/91 in Brooklyn, NY
Verdugo Hills HS, Los Angeles, CA
Acquired - Rookie FA (2014)

A first-team All-MEAC selection as a senior at Morgan State, Karim Barton signed with the Eagles as a rookie free agent in 2014. He started three seasons at right tackle at Morgan State after transferring from College of the Canyons Junior College in 2010. Originally from Jamaica, Barton moved to the United States at the age of 13 after his mother passed away from a blood clot.

BIRDSEED

- Didn't start playing football until his junior year of high school. According to Barton, he was "too scared" to play his freshman and sophomore years. "Back in Jamaica, the only sports that people played were cricket, soccer and track. I wasn't familiar with football at the time," he said. Over the years, as more and more people encouraged him to go out for the team, he decided to play his junior year
- The journey from high school football star to NFL pro was not an easy one for Barton. "Once the college letters started showing up at our door, my brother looked at it as a way for me to get a free education, so we started to pursue those avenues," he said. Despite the promising letters, nothing came to fruition, so Barton decided to attend College of the Canyons Junior College. After proving himself there, he sparked the attention of UNLV. The university showed interest, offered him a spot, and from there, he prepared for the next phase of his football career...until the UNLV coaching staff was fired and his offer was retracted. That didn't stop him. His persistence and strong work ethic landed him a spot at Morgan State where he was named a first-team All-MEAC honoree as a senior
- Favorite sports moment was when he was chosen by Morgan State and his high school to be a team captain. "The fact that they were willing to put their trust in me to lead a group chasing one goal was unbelievable. That speaks more to me than any one play or game."

IN THE TRENCHES

- Underrated attribute needed on the o-line: "You have to be smart. Everyone at this level is strong and fast, but you have to ask yourself one thing: 'What separates me?' It's all about your mindset."
- Most challenging aspect on the o-line: "The ability to be consistent on every single play - from your technique to your footwork."
- The best part of being an o-lineman: "Working together as a unit. Also, looking across at the d-line and seeing the fear in their eyes because they know what's coming."
- Favorite o-lineman of all-time: NFL Hall of Famer Larry Allen
- Position other than o-lineman he would most like to play: DT
- Best player he ever lined up against: Khalil Mack
- Most memorable block: In his last game ever at Morgan State, Barton made a stretch block on a linebacker which paved the way for a 30-yard TD run. Morgan State defeated Delaware State, 31-26

PERSONAL

- Would like to trade places with a philanthropist for a day. Intrigued by people who give back, he wants to serve as a humanitarian for Jamaica when his playing days are over
- Pregame ritual consists of listening to music, shuffling images of his family back and forth in his head and posing the question to himself, "Who am I doing this for?"
- As a member of Verdugo Hills High School, was a second-team all-district selection as an offensive tackle
- Has three brothers, Shawn, Gary and Bobby
- Earned his degree in business administration

THREE-STEP DROP

Nickname: Shane
Dinner guest: "My mom."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Earned first-team Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference honors and was a three-time MEAC offensive lineman of the week as a senior in 2013
- Started 11 games at right tackle as a junior and helped pave the way for All-MEAC running back Travis "Juice" Davidson
- After transferring from College of the Canyons Junior College, started nine of 11 games at right tackle for Morgan State
- Was a starter at offensive tackle at College of the Canyons JC in 2010

A FAMILY BOND

After his birth in Brooklyn, NY, in December of 1991, Barton moved to Jamaica where he spent most of his childhood. In 2003, his mother, Carol, fell ill and passed away shortly thereafter to a blood clot. The news was obviously very devastating for Barton. "I was heartbroken, but also naive to everything because I didn't want to believe it. My mom was never sick before that." As bad as things seemed for him, they were about to get worse. "Right after the funeral, my dad stopped being a dad and what followed was complete family dysfunction."

At 13, Barton moved to the US where his older brother, Shawn, brought him in. Living in the rough streets of South Central, LA, Shawn knew that it was his responsibility to keep Karim on the right path. "He taught me work ethic," says Barton. "He had a lot on his hands at the time. He was going to school, he was working and he had to take on the parenting role. The two biggest influences on my life have been my mother and brother."

Linebacker
6-4, 264
Cincinnati
6th year
Born 10/15/86 in Southfield, MI
University of Detroit HS, Detroit, MI
Acquired - FA (Hou) 2013

If you had one word best fit to depict Connor Barwin the football player and Connor Barwin the man, that word would be versatile. On the field, he is best described by his defensive coaches as the "jack of all trades," willing and able to rush the passer, set the edge on run plays or drop into pass coverage. Off the field, Barwin's newly formed foundation, Make The World Better (MTWB), exemplifies his upbringing as the son of city manager and the civic pride he displays since growing up in Detroit, MI. Barwin, a former tight end and basketball player at the University of Cincinnati, was a 2nd round draft pick of the Texans in 2009 and signed with Philadelphia as a free agent in 2013

BIRDSEED

- Barwin makes it no secret he fully integrates himself into the city he lives. "You get out of a city what you put into a city," he explained. "It's that simple. Why not take advantage of everything a city has to offer. It just makes sense to me ... My dad was a city manager, so I gained an appreciation for cities from him. He took me around different cities and pointed out all the differences and great places to go. I really got that from him and just try to embrace wherever I am"
- Serves as a spokesman and avid user of Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA). "I love public transportation and I love using it," said Barwin. "It's good for the city and it's great for the environment" ... when not taking public transportation, Barwin drives a Tesla, an electric-powered car, or rides his bicycle
- After being born completely deaf, Barwin underwent multiple surgeries until he was 12 years old to have his hearing restored
- Enjoys an interactive relationship as a spokesman for NRG Energy, a Fortune 500 power generation and retail electricity business. Barwin: "They are a very transformative company and I really like what they are doing to help our environment" ... in 2014, he embarked on a three-day trip to Haiti to help NRG install solar panels on top of an orphanage to give them reliable power
- Aced a Spanish class at Temple University during the 2014 offseason as he gets closer to obtaining his college degree

17 Arrelious Benn

Wide Receiver
6-2, 220
Illinois
5th year
Born 9/8/88 in Washington, D.C.
Dunbar HS, Washington, D.C.
Acquired - Trade (TB) 2013

A former second-round selection of Tampa Bay in 2010, Arrelious Benn was acquired by the Eagles in a trade with the Buccaneers during the 2013 offseason and missed the entirety of his first season in Philadelphia with a torn ACL. Benn recorded 59 receptions for 862 yards and five touchdowns during his three-year stint in Tampa Bay. In 2011, he started all 14 games in which he appeared and recorded career highs in catches (30), receiving yards (441) and touchdowns (3). A native of Washington, D.C., Benn starred at the University of Illinois where he became the first Illini receiver since 2002 and only the fourth player in school history to surpass 1,000 yards receiving in a single season.

BIRDSEED

- Recently began a Coat Drive in his hometown of Washington, D.C. "I used to be in a situation where I didn't have all the proper necessities," said Benn looking back on his days growing up. "I was raised in a single-parent household with four brothers, so I can relate to the struggles that some people go through. It's important that we all help out in some way."
- Greeted youth athletes and served as an honorary captain in the 2011 Pop Warner Super Bowl in Orlando
- Visited hospital patients and sang Christmas carols to residents at Westminster Palms retirement home in December 2010
- Hosted a bowling outing for foster children and accompanied the Boys and Girls Club of Orlando to a theme park in June of 2010

ROAD TO RECOVERY

After being acquired by the Eagles during the 2013 offseason, Benn was looking forward to a fresh start in a new city and new offense. However, his hopes of contributing in his first season in Philadelphia were dashed after he tore his ACL during a joint practice with the New England Patriots on August 6th.

Since injuring his knee, Benn has been at the NovaCare Complex nearly every day, pushing himself to return even better than he was before the injury. Additionally, he has also continued to push himself mentally, learning that positive reinforcement can be a key to success.

"If anything, the thing I've gotten better at it's being mentally tough," said Benn. "I think I've gotten stronger in that area. I look at this situation as how can I help the team? How can I help myself to become a better person on and off the field? I'm just thankful to be here. I look at football differently than I did before the injury. Every time I touch the field, I feel blessed to be out there. I don't take one day for granted."

THE MOST INTERESTING MAN IN THE WORLD

Here are some fun facts you may not know about Bryan Braman:

- As a senior prank at West Texas A&M, teammates cut off Braman's dreadlocks at his defensive line coach's house. Still having an attachment to them, he currently has them stored in a Ziploc bag in his garage
- Claims to get his size from his late grandfather, Ivan Cecil Braman, a World War II veteran who was a whopping 7-foot-4 and 360 pounds

BRAMAN'S UNCONVENTIONAL PATH TO THE NFL

Prior to landing his first NFL job as a rookie free agent signing with the Houston Texans in 2011, Bryan Braman thought his football career was over. "After I got kicked out of Idaho, I was making concrete railroad ties for a year, just back-breaking work. It was tough."

Braman went to West Texas A&M in 2009 after a two-year stint at Long Beach City College. He originally went to Idaho, where he served as a redshirt freshman in 2006. "The bottom line is I was just immature and got caught up in bad things. It was an eye-opening experience for me and really forced me to grow up. I think going through that ultimately made me a better person. I'm so much more appreciative of everything I have now."

"He's a war-daddy, man. When I think special teams, I think Bryan Braman. He's all out on every play."
- Eagles punter Donnie Jones, who played with Braman in Houston

Acquired - Rookie FA (2014)

A versatile threat in the collegiate ranks, Trey Burton signed with the Eagles as a rookie free agent during the 2014 offseason. Burton, who lined up at quarterback, fullback, H-back, tight end and wide receiver during his tenure with the Gators, finished his career with 720 rushing yards and 16 touchdowns on 141 carries and 107 catches for 976 yards and four touchdowns. As a senior captain, Burton moved to wide receiver full-time in 2013 and ranked third on the team with 38 receptions for 445 yards and one touchdown.

BIRDSEED

- Claims the biggest influences on his life were a trio of mentors, including his grandfather, John McClintock, and two of his high school coaches, John Peacock and Larry Shannon. Trey grew up without a father in his life and these three men helped fill that void. "They kept me going in the right direction," said Burton. "I didn't have a father growing up, so they were like my father figures through high school. If I ever needed anything or need anything to this day, I can always go to them and ask for anything"
- Burton's athleticism runs in his bloodlines as his grandfather, Lawrence Burton, was the seventh overall selection in the 1975 NFL Draft and also sprinted for Team USA in the 1972 Summer Olympics in Munich. Lawrence split time with the New Orleans Saints and San Diego Chargers during his five-year NFL career, hauling in 44 catches for 804 yards and seven touchdowns. Additionally, he placed fourth for the United States in Munich in the 200 meter final

- Underrated attributes needed to be a successful tight end: "They have to be able to do it all. They have to be able to block. They've got to be able to pass protect and they've got to be able to run routes or else they wouldn't be good. So you have to do everything and do it well."
- Favorite moment in sports growing up: "My freshman year against Georgia, because my family growing up were huge Georgia fans and I had committed to Florida. Cornerback 5-10, 197
Virginia Tech
4th year
Born 9/9/88 in Laurinburg, NC
Gwynn Park HS, Brandywine, MD
Acquired - FA (Hou) 2013

A former fourth-round pick of the Houston Texans in 2011, Roc Carmichael was signed to the Eagles 53-man roster on 9/18/13 after spending the first two weeks of the season on the Texans' practice squad. Carmichael appeared in 13 games with two starts for the Eagles in 2013, providing quality depth in both the secondary and on the team's special teams units. A two-year starter at Virginia Tech, he earned preseason second-team All-America and first-team All-ACC accolades as a senior in 2010.

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his first NFL start in place of an injured Bradley Fletcher at GB (11/10) and posted 5 tackles and 2 pass deflections

BIRDSEED

- Credits his mother, Mae, for being who he is today. "She pushed me and made sure that academics came first. I was able to get a degree in psychology and a minor in human development at Virginia Tech because my mother kept telling me how important a degree is for life." Mae currently works at Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland
- Along with teammate Davon Morgan, Carmichael spent his senior year of college working 50 hours a week at a local Head Start school, helping out children from low-income families. Having graduated as a junior, Carmichael devoted his time and effort to helping these kids achieve in the classroom while also providing them with trips to Blacksburg to visit Lane Stadium and the team's locker room. Virginia Tech has since adopted the program as an annual event in which kids from the school travel to visit with the team
- Modeled his game after former Virginia Tech standouts Brandon Flowers and Macho Harris. "Flowers was a Virginia Tech guy. Coming out of school, he was an All-American, All-ACC type of player. He just did things the right way. I base a lot of my game after him and Macho Harris. I took pieces from both of those guys because I came up from under them and learned a lot from them."

BLESS ALL PEOPLE

After losing his father at a young age, Roc found two ways to keep himself occupied during the tough time in his life -- football and helping others. He saw the way that people behaved around him, with fancy cars and expensive jewelery, and realized that he didn't want to travel down a similar path. He wanted to do whatever he could to help those in need with everything that he had.

Since starting "Bless All People" during his senior season at Virginia Tech, Carmichael has held six football camps to help teach kids about ways to behave both on and off the field. He's hosted coat drives, fed women at local shelters and thrown a middle-school dance for senior citizens, all of which he's done out of his own pocket.

"It's something as small as going and buying a few pizzas from Little Caesars and going to feed the homeless people," said Carmichael. "We cooked burgers and hot dogs one day and passed them out on the street. It's hard to explain because it's not a movement and it's not a foundation. It's a real feeling that you get helping the people next to you. It's what I feel in my heart we should be doing."

FAMILY VALUES

Carroll was raised in a military family, as both of his parents served in the Armed Forces. Carroll's father, Nolan Sr., served in the Air Force, where he earned the rank of senior master sergeant.

His mother, Jennifer, served in the Navy, where she became a lieutenant commander. Mrs. Carroll turned in 20 years of military service and left the Navy with a long list of achievements, including a Meritorious Service Medal; two Navy Commendation Medals; two Navy Achievement Medals; a National Defense Service Medal; an Overseas Ribbon; two Coast Guard Special Operation Ribbons; and an Expert Pistol Medal.

Adding to her resume, Mrs. Carroll was named Florida's lieutenant governor after spending seven years as a state legislator and also serving as executive director of the Florida Department of Veterans Affairs.

BIRDSEED

- Was originally recruited to Maryland as a receiver before transitioning to cornerback his sophomore year. Said Carroll: "I liked receiver but I've always considered myself a defensive guy. I've always had that mindset. I basically begged to play corner. They let me and I took off from there."

After watching Harris perform on Sundays, Carroll began to grow dreads of his own his freshman year in college. He cut them off once he entered the NFL.

85 James Casey

Tight End
6-3, 240
Rice
6th year
Born 9/22/84 in Fort Worth, TX
Azle HS, Azle, TX
Acquired - FA (Hou) 2013

A versatile and athletic tight end, Casey signed a three-year deal with the Eagles on the first day of free agency in 2013 after spending the first four years of his career with the Houston Texans. Originally a fifth round draft choice of Houston in 2009, the multi-faceted Casey was drafted in the seventh round of the 2003 MLB draft by the Chicago White Sox and spent three years in their organization before ultimately retiring to pursue a career in football in 2006. Casey spent two years at Rice and set school records as a sophomore in 2008 before entering the NFL draft. He then returned to Rice in the 2011 offseason to complete his degree as he triple majored in economics, managerial studies and sport management, and minored in business.

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Finished the year ranked 2nd on the team with 13 special teams tackles
- Notched a team-high 3 special teams tackles vs. Dal. (10/20)

BIRDSEED

- A triple major in economics, managerial studies and sport management in just three years at Rice, Casey returned in the 2011 offseason to complete his degree
- Nicknamed "Thor" in college after the "Thor package" of plays at Rice featuring Casey as the quarterback
- Following his three-year baseball stint in the Chicago White Sox's minor league system, Casey decided to put down the bat and pursue a career in football. The switch was a rude awakening for him as he was turned down by virtually every college program due to his football inexperience. After a tireless effort of self-recruiting on his part, Casey was eventually offered a full scholarship to Rice. However, just when everything was starting to fall into place for him, Rice's head coach left to take on the same role at Tulsa three days after Casey arrived on campus. With an 0-6 record to start the 2007 season and a nationally-televised game against Southern Miss next up on the schedule, the coaching staff decided to let Casey loose on the field. The freshman played seven different positions in the game (wildcat QB, WR, RB, holder, guard on punt team, punt returner and DE) en route to a 31-29 Rice win
- An avid reader, Casey's favorite book is As A Man Thinketh by James Allen. Said Casey: "I've read it a bunch of times and always keep a copy in my locker. I try to get other people to read it all the time. It's a great book."
- Interned for Houston Mayor Annise Parker during the 2010 offseason
- He and his wife, Kylie, have two sons, Cannon James and Knox
- A standout in football and baseball at Azle High School, earned all-district honors as a junior quarterback while garnering all-state honors as a senior pitcher. Was also named the District 6-4A MVP in baseball

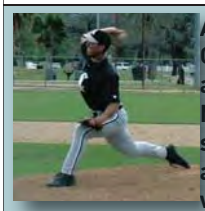
FROM THE DIAMOND TO THE GRID-IRON



A two-sport star in high school, Casey originally pursued a career in baseball after being drafted in the 7th round of the 2003 MLB draft by the Chicago White Sox out of high school. An accomplished pitcher, Casey threw a no-hitter in his first-ever varsity game and went on to win all-state honors as a senior. He spent three years in the White Sox organization before retiring in 2006 to pursue a career in football.

EARLY BIRD GETS THE WORM

An early riser, Casey gets up at 4:30 am every work day and is at the NovaCare Complex by 5:15. "That's my quiet time to kind of get everything ready in my head for the day," said Casey. "I get to watch film and really soak everything in. It's just part of my routine."

AFTER TRAGEDY, COMES INSPIRATION

James Casey knew tragedy at a young age as he lost his mother, Susan, in a residential fire during his sophomore year of high school. Susan, who lived with James in a trailer in Azle, TX, worked nights and went to sleep in the morning when James was at school. "We had a heater, an electrical appliance, that malfunctioned and caught fire and burned the trailer," recalls Casey. "That was a traumatic event, it was very tough for me."

Casey moved in with his athletic trainer, Doc and Betsy Urbanek, and got help from a variety of people, including his family, friends and what would be his future wife, Kylie, and mother-in-law, Holly. Said Casey: "The Urbanek's were amazing to me. I consider them my adopted parents. My wife's mother stepped in and really took care of me through my senior year of high school on. I owe a lot to her and my wife for really taking care of me during that time when it was real tough."

After his mother's death, Casey poured himself into sports and education. He saw amazing success in both football and baseball. "Do I feel sorry for myself and just quit, or do I realize that my mom would want me to pick myself up and succeed," Casey said. "That was the turning point in my life. It made me work very hard to be extremely successful."

QUOTES

- NFL Analyst Brian Baldinger on Celek: "I think he's the best all-around tight end in the NFL right now. When you combine his blocking, pass protection and pass-catching ability, he's the whole package. He gets tons of yards after the catch, he's tough and he does it all. Rob Gronkowski and Jimmy Graham may have the numbers, but they can't block like Celek. I challenge you to try and name a tight end that blocks better than him. There isn't one."
- Celek's father, Steve, on seeing Brent's drive and love for football early in life: "He was probably around 2 years old and he was standing in front of the TV while my wife was doing dishes. He was banging on the TV and making noise. My wife asked him what he was doing and he said, 'Football.'

  "She said, 'You want to play football?' He said, 'No, I want to play football on TV.' He never deviated from that."

FOR CELEK, THE ONLY WORK IS HARD WORK

Known for his relentless work ethic, Brent Celek has the distinct reputation of being the first one in to the NovaCare Complex every day, and the last one to leave.

Mark Staten, who was Celek's tight ends coach at Cincinnati and is currently coaching at Michigan State, claims that his former player has always been that way. Said Staten: "He is one of the hardest working, if not the hardest working player that I have enjoyed coaching. From the time I met him as a freshman when he got to Cincinnati, he wanted to be the best tight end. He wanted to play in the NFL and he wanted to be the best tight end in the NFL. As a young 19-year-old, that was his goal."

When asked if there was a specific moment when he knew Celek would turn into something special, Staten recalls a funny story. "When he took all my NFL tight end tape and I couldn't find it any more. I let him borrow it, he studied it on his own and I never got it back. We had some film with Shannon Sharpe doing some things. I remember he really dove into that. That's the thing about Brent - he's just a guy that wants to be the best. His work ethic, his intelligence, the way he goes about the game of football. He wants the information."

SPECIAL RELATIONSHIP

Brent's #1 fan is his grandfather, Ed, and vice versa. "We've been very close from when he was little on up," Ed said. "Of all my 15 grandchildren, I don't know why we're the closest." Brent gave his grandfather the ball from his first touchdown catch in 2007 as well as many of his other awards and trophies. In fact, Celek's new business venture, a gourmet hot dog and sausage stand called Prime Stache, contains a photo of Ed with a mustache on the menu.

Said Celek of Ed: "Every single day, the fact he's 88 and the way he's living is amazing. No matter what happens in his life he has a positive outlook. He's always been that way. Whenever I didn't want to go further he made me go further. I have a great family and it starts with Grandpa. He's the chief."

BIRDSEED

- Celek, who was not invited to the NFL scouting combine as a senior in 2007 and was then drafted in the fifth round, admits that those snubs have been a huge motivating force for him. Said Celek: "It ticked me off, to be honest. I thought I would be drafted higher, but it just lit a fire under me that I will always carry.
- Had dinner with Jim Cramer, host of "Mad Money" on CNBC and long-time Eagles fan, during the 2009 offseason. The two met to discuss finance and football. "We went to a barbeque place in New York called Blue Smoke. We talked about finance and the market, then we talked about football. It was fun, he invited me back up there to sit in and watch the show."

BRENT AND "THE BUS"

Known for routinely taking on multiple defenders to gain an extra yard, Celek says he tries to model that particular part of his game after one of the all-time great running backs. "I grew up watching Jerome Bettis and loved the way he played. He was a beast, the first guy never took him down. When I have the ball in my hands, I try to be like him. That's my mindset."

PERSONAL

- Acquired his desire to invest and research business ventures during his college classes at Cincinnati. "I would often get bored in class and sometimes just log onto the internet during class to research companies and learn as much as I could."
- His parents, Steve and Debbie, own three hair salon and spas in Cincinnati named Paragon Salon
- Researches companies as a hobby in hopes of one day investing in them. Reads the Wall Street Journal every day with an online subscription, as well as many other websites. "I try to focus on companies I know and use in everyday life."
- Brent teamed up with the Miracle League of Northampton, a baseball/softball league for special needs children, in an effort to build Miracle Field, a safe, smooth baseball surface for kids in wheelchairs. For more information about Miracle Field, visit www.miracleleaguenhpa.org.

PRIME STACHE

In April of 2013, Brent opened his own restaurant in Philadelphia called "Prime Stache." Located on 110 Chestnut Street in Old City, the menu features mostly american cuisine. "My two favorite things are the wings and the meatloaf," said Celek.

ALL BUSINESS, ALL THE TIME

Became the first NFL football player to ever be named to Philadelphia Business Journal's "40 under 40" for his success in his multiple business ventures, including his newly-launched clothing and accessory line REVISIT. SICKENING EXPERIENCE

After a successful college career at Cincinnati, Cole expected to be drafted some time in the first three rounds of the 2005 NFL draft. But he caught pneumonia twice as he was training after his senior season and saw his draft stock plummet. "I remember catching it, trying to recover from it, and then I got put in the hospital," said Cole. "The doctor told me that I was going to get it again in a week or so, and I got it again. It really hurt me, and I went from 260 pounds to 230. I couldn't perform at the combine. I remember going into the meetings and answering a couple of questions before the coaches would excuse me to go back to the room because I was so sick. I couldn't even look at them, it was bad."

Born 9/9/87 in Oklahoma City, OK
Central Catholic HS, Clearwater, FL
Acquired - D5b-10 (159th overall)

An imposing presence from the wide receiver position, Riley Cooper took full advantage of his opportunity in 2013 as a full-time starter for the first time in his career. Cooper ranked 3rd in the NFL with a 17.8 yards/catch as he hauled 47 passes for 835 yards and 8 touchdowns. Cooper signed a five-year contract following the 2013 season. The Clearwater, FL, native was drafted twice in Major League Baseball (Phillies in 2006 and Rangers in 2009)

BIRDSEED

- As a senior in high school, made 103 tackles and 5 interceptions as a safety and was recruited mostly as a "athlete" by several top programs, but chose Florida because they had the most interest in him as a wide receiver and allowed him to play baseball
- Enjoys outdoor activities including hunting and fishing. "My dad got me into fishing when I was real young. We had a small boat and we would go out on weekends when I didn't have any games."

A DAY AT THE BALLPARK

A two-sport star in college, Cooper took part in a Phillies spring training practice in 2013 where he met with the team, took batting practice and shagged fly balls. "It was an awesome experience," said Cooper, a 2006 draftee of the Phillies. "I got to meet all of those guys, it was great. It was also cool to get back out on the field and show that I can hang with them a little bit."

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Set career highs in receptions (47), yards (835) and TDs (8)
- Led the team with 6 receptions for 68 yards and a touchdown from QB Nick Foles in a NFC Wild Card playoff game vs. NO (1/4)
- Scored on a 5-yard TD pass from Foles vs. Chi. (12/22)
- Led the team with 102 receiving yards and caught two touchdowns at GB (11/10), including a 45-yard score from Foles

Also rushed for 18 yards on a pitch from Foles. His 3-TD performance was the first by an Eagle since Kevin Curtis did so on 9/23/07 vs. Detroit

PERSONAL

- Is the son of Larry and Monica Cooper. His younger sister, Lindsey, is a soccer player at the University of Florida. Said Riley, "She's the real athlete of the family."
- Attended Central Catholic HS in Clearwater, FL, lettering in football and baseball. Earned first-team, all-state honors as a safety during his sophomore, junior and senior seasons. Also played wide receiver
- Began playing football in 6th grade as a quarterback for the Indian Rocks Golden Eagles
- Most prized possessions are his two National Championship rings from the University of Florida
- Earned his degree in family, youth and community sciences

"From the beginning, he's impressed me. I like big guys. And he's a big guy and he finds a way - when it gets thick out there and as the game goes on, everybody kind of gets tired. Riley doesn't get smaller, you know. And I think big guys find a way to make plays when there's people around them."

- Offensive Coordinator Pat Shurmur

91 Fletcher Cox

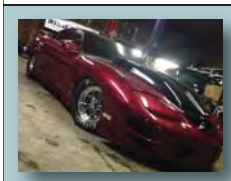
Defensive End
6-4, 300
Mississippi State
3rd year
Born 12/13/90 in Yazoo City, MS
Yazoo City HS, Yazoo, MS
Acquired - D1-12 (12th overall)

An athletic and versatile defensive lineman, Fletcher Cox has established himself as one of the team's most productive defensive players after the Eagles traded up three spots in the 2012 draft to take him with the 12th selection overall. The explosive Cox was named first-team All-SEC as a junior at Mississippi State. During his three-year career with the Bulldogs, he amassed 114 tackles, 24.5 tackles for a loss and 8.5 sacks in 36 games.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Was named to PFWA's all-rookie team in 2012
- His 5.5 sacks in 2012 tied for the team lead and also tied for fifth among all rookies and among all NFL defensive tackles
- His sack total in 2012 also tied for the third-most ever by an Eagles rookie and the second-most by a rookie DT (Corey Simon - 9.5 in 2000)

THE MECHANIC



One of Fletcher's passions off the field is fixing up old cars. In fact, he believes he'd most likely work as a mechanic if he wasn't playing football. "It runs in the family,"said Cox. "My mom works at Nissan. My brother owns two race cars that I like to work on sometimes. I love it, it's great."

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Led the team with 21 QB pressures
- According to Pro Football Focus, finished the year ranked 2nd among all 3-4 DEs with 39 QB hurries

- Posted a sack of Chiefs QB Alex Smith and recorded a tackle for a loss vs. KC (9/19)
- Notched a sack of Robert Griffin III at Was. (9/9)

DRAGGED INTO THE MUD

When he's not getting his jersey dirty on the field, Fletcher isn't exactly staying clean off of it. One of his favorite things to do in his free time is take out one of his two ATVs and go 'Mud-riding.'

"I got into it when I was little," said Fletcher. "There are a few tracks near my hometown I drive to. You talk about mud...wait till you see how covered you are after doing this for a few hours. It's crazy."

BIRDSEED

- Grew up in the very small town of Yazoo, Mississippi, which has a population of less than 30,000 people. "It was a big adjustment for me last year coming from that environment," said Cox. "When I first got here, I would walk around the city or anywhere and was just amazed at how fast things moved. I ended up loving it. I do like the quiet I get back home, but it's definitely a nice change of pace for me in Philly."

89 B.J. Cunningham

Wide Receiver
6-2, 215
Michigan State
1st year
Born 5/29/89 in Westerville, OH
Westerville South HS, Westerville, OH
Acquired - FA 2012

A former high school soccer and basketball standout who did not start playing football until his junior year of high school, B.J. Cunningham re-signed to the Eagles practice squad on 11/14/13 after spending weeks 7-10 on the team's active roster. Originally a sixth-round draft choice of the Miami Dolphins in 2012, Cunningham was on the Eagles practice squad for the duration of his rookie campaign. The all-time leading receiver in Michigan State history, Cunningham was voted as the Spartans MVP as a senior in 2011 after tying a school single-season record with 79 receptions and a career-high 1,306 receiving yards.

BIRDSEED

- Began playing football during his junior year of high school after playing soccer since he was four years old. "Basically, I didn't want to play soccer anymore and I just wanted to focus on basketball, but my mom didn't like that and told me I had to do something in the fall. I figured I'd give football a try and it ended up working out pretty well."
- His success in soccer as a youngster landed him on the Junior USA team as a middle schooler. The squad played in tournament in Sweden, Iceland and Denmark and Cunningham was one of their leading scorers. His most memorable game though occurred in a courtyard near their hotel when the Mexican team challenged them to an impromptu game. The USA team won.
- States his most memorable moment in sports was winning a share of the Big Ten championship during his junior campaign at Michigan State in 2010. That season, led the Spartans with nine touchdown receptions, the fourth-best total in school history, and garnered honorable mention All-Big Ten honors while leading the team to their first Big Ten title since 1990
- Was recruited by Cincinnati by Mark D'Antonio, who later became Michigan State's head coach and continued to recruit Cunningham even with the school change. Cunningham credits D'Antonio for teaching him "how to grow up and turn into a man and handle responsibilities. He was a father figure in my life and I still talk to him to this day"
- Credits his high school basketball coach, Ed Calo, for giving him great advice, "I talk to him about everything. He got me through a lot. He gave me my diploma when I graduated. He brought the relentless nature out of me. The opportunities I got, I wouldn't have got them without him. He made me work."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Finished his career at Michigan State as the school's all-time leader in receptions (218) and receiving yards (3,086), while ranking second in touchdowns
- Voted as a team MVP as a senior in 2011 while earning second-team All-Big Ten honors after tying a school single-season record with 79 receptions and a career-high 1,306 receiving yards
- Earned All-Pac 10 honorable mention honors in 2010 after posting 50 catches for 611 yards and a career-high nine touchdowns
- Led the team with 48 receptions for 641 yards and four touchdowns in 2009
- Posted 41 catches for 528 yards in 2008

75 Vinny Curry

Defensive End
6-3, 279
Marshall
3rd year
Born 6/30/88 in Neptune, NJ
Neptune HS, Neptune, NJ
Acquired - D2b-12 (59th overall)

A lifelong fan of the Philadelphia Eagles, Vinny Curry has emerged as a valuable pass-rushing threat in the Eagles defensive line rotation. Selected in the second round in 2012, Curry was a standout defensive end at Marshall, collaring 26 sacks, 49 tackles for a loss and 10 forced fumbles in his four years on campus. Curry was named the 2011 Conference USA Defensive Player of the Year as a senior after posting 11 sacks, seven forced fumbles and 22 tackles for a loss.

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Ranked tied for third on the team with four sacks and third with 9 QB pressures despite playing in just 26% of the team's defensive snaps
- Dropped Packers QB Scott Tolzien for his fourth sack of the season and an eight-yard loss at GB (11/10)
- Sacked Raiders QB Terrelle Pryor for a 16-yard loss in the third quarter at Oak. (11/3)
- Notched his second sack of the year, downing QB Tony Romo for a 10-yard loss in the second quarter vs. Dal. (10/20)
- Recorded his first-career sack, bringing down QB Alex Smith for a six-yard loss in the third quarter vs. KC (9/19)

IN MEMORY OF HIS MOTHER

Grieving the loss of a loved one is a distressing time for anyone. However, following up a moment like that with an appearance in a football game where emotions are running high is unimaginable. As challenging as it was, Vinny Curry did just that. On October 14, 2011, Curry attended his mother's funeral. On October 15, the very next day, he joined his Marshall teammates and defeated conference rival Rice at home, 24-20. Curry had arguably the greatest game of his career as he posted nine tackles, 3.5 sacks and a forced fumble. His performance earned him the FWAA/Bronko Nagurski National Defensive Player of the Week award.

Said Curry on his decision to play in the game: "It was a last minute decision for me and I wasn't even dressed for the game at first. I thought it was the right thing to do and it kept my mind off of everything for awhile. It helped with the grieving."

An image of his mother's face, Linda Jackson, is tattooed on his right forearm.

BIRDSEED

- Grew up as a huge fan of the Eagles. "It all started with Ricky Watters. I used to want to play running back and he was my favorite player. After that, I just loved rooting for them, I have pictures and jerseys all over my house. It was such a special moment for me to get drafted by the team I've rooted for all my life."
- Wears No. 75 in remembrance of the 75 lives that were lost in the 1970 Marshall plane crash. "I want to show appreciation for what Marshall meant to me and the great tradition I was part of."

46 Jon Dorenbos

Long Snapper
6-0, 250
UTEP
12th year
Born 7/21/80 in Garden Grove, CA
Pacifica HS, Garden Grove, CA
Acquired - FA 2006

After battling a tremendous amount of personal adversity early in life, Jon Dorenbos (pronounced DORN-boss) has worked hard and stayed focused enough to carve out a successful career as an NFL long snapper and was named to his first Pro Bowl following the 2009 season. Originally signed by Philadelphia in the latter half of the 2006 season, Dorenbos has played in every game for the Eagles since then and was re-signed by the team to a four-year contract on March 11, 2013 that will keep him in Philadelphia through 2017. Dorenbos, who endured the murder of his mother by his father at a young age, took up magic to help ease his mind throughout the tough times. In the offseason, regularly performs as a motivational speaker and comedy magician.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Despite never running a 40-yard dash or never being recruited to play college football, has carved out a, 11-year NFL career, while earning a Pro Bowl selection following the 2009 season. "On an individual level, it was the coolest thing that ever happened to me," said Dorenbos. "To get that level of respect [from the coaches who voted] is really what it's all about"

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Named as the special teams captain of USA Football's 2013 All-Fundamental team, which honors 26 NFL players who exhibit exemplary football techniques for youth players to emulate

BIRDSEED

- During the 2014 offseason, became a licensed pilot with the simple reasoning of "wanting to be able to fly myself to my shows around the country." He pilots various Cirrus aircrafts
- Served as an executive producer for a 2014 documentary Different Town along with one his best friends, Steve Carlson. The musical journey follows the making of an album that spans 9 countries. Along the way, Carlson found his wife. The documentary won a few awards at film festivals

- Other lesser known feats he accomplished in 2014: recorded a personal best of 2,439 consecutive pogo stick jumps; watched 412 straight episodes of Bonanza; back-peddled from Los Angeles to San Francisco to create awareness for plantar fasciitis (ended up raising $6.12); conducted a two-week pilgrimage through the rain forest of the Schuylkill River in search of a 1983 Funk & Wagnalls encyclopedia set.
- His love for magic was born while he spent 1992 in foster care after personal tragedy struck his family. He met an older teenager who could do tricks and he fell in love with magic. "It was a time for me to be by myself, a way for me to pass time. I was at peace and I enjoyed it. I loved the coordination, and being obsessed with the fundamentals of what I was doing"
- Hit up his web site JonDorenbos.com for bookings
- Performed magic in front of many famous musicians and athletes including Magic Johnson, Joe Montana, Dan Marino, Jim Kelly, Garth Brooks, Lindsay Lohan, Rascal Flatts and Dierks Bentley. Dorenbos then collects their autographs on a playing card which he hangs up in the game room of his California home. "Having the opportunity to meet the people I've met through something I love doing, it's just an indescribable feeling."
- In 2008, captured a Mid-Atlantic Emmy Award for hosting Inside the Eagles, which aired on CSN Philadelphia via the Eagles Television Network

86 Zach Ertz

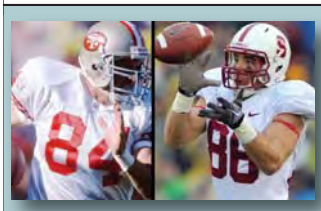
Tight End
6-5, 250
Stanford
2nd year
Born 11/10/90 in Orange, CA
Monte Vista HS, Danville, CA
Acquired - D2-2013 (35th overall)

An athletic and intelligent target at the tight end position, Zach Ertz showed immense promise in his rookie season in 2013 after becoming the highest tight end drafted by the Eagles (35th overall) since the team selected Keith Jackson in 1988. A former basketball player in high school, Ertz made the transformation to All-American tight end at Stanford, where his 898 receiving yards in 2012 led all Cardinal pass catchers and all FBS tight ends, while his 69 receptions tied for the FBS lead at that position.

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Set a career high with 6 catches for 57 yards, including an acrobatic one-handed grab for a touchdown on a 3-yard pass from QB Nick Foles at Min. (12/15)
- Hauled in a 3-yard TD pass from Foles to put the team up 24-23 in the 4th quarter vs. NO (1/4) in a NFC Wild Card playoff game
- Led the team with a career-high 68 receiving yards while scoring two touchdowns on passes from Foles vs. Arz. (12/1). It marked the first multi-TD game by an Eagles TE in the regular season since Chad Lewis in 2001 and the first by an Eagles rookie TE since Keith Jackson in 1988
- Hauled in his first career touchdown catch on a 15-yard throw from Foles at Oak. (11/3) and set a career high with 5 catches for 42 yards

LEARNING FROM THE BEST



During his high school career at Monte Vista, Ertz had the privilege of being tutored by former four-time Pro Bowl tight end Brent Jones. Prior to Ertz's junior season, Jones helped coach the Mustangs and paid special attention to the big tight end. "He was big and had a lot of athleticism," Jones said. "He thought he was a basketball player. After the first month, I told him, 'You have what the NFL is looking for. If you put in the time and effort you can play at the pro level.'" After watching Ertz work, Jones saw Stanford as the best college fit for his pupil and contacted then-Cardinal head coach and current 49ers head coach Jim Harbaugh. Although Ertz suffered a broken wrist early in his junior season, Stanford arrived with a scholarship offer, which Ertz accepted. "Coach Jones has been an unbelievable resource for me," said Ertz. "I would not be where I am today in football if it wasn't for him. No question about it."

COVER BOY

Fresh off a win over the Lions on a snow-covered field, Foles was featured on the cover of the December 16th edition of Sports Illustrated. It was the 19th time an Eagle adorned the cover of that magazine. "That's awesome, that's really awesome," said tight end Brent Celek. "I remember when my brother [Garrett] was a freshman [at Michigan State] and Nick Foles was rooming with him. I didn't even know who Nick Foles was and now he is on the cover of Sports Illustrated. It's crazy."

66 Andrew Gardner

Tackle
6-6, 308
Georgia Tech
5th year
Born 4/4/86 in Chamblee, GA
Sandy Creek HS, Tyrone, GA
Acquired - FA (Hou) 2014

Originally a sixth-round draft pick of the Miami Dolphins in 2009, Andrew Gardner signed with the Eagles as a free agent during the 2014 offseason. Following stints with the Dolphins (2009-10), Ravens (2010), Vikings (2010) and Bengals (2010-11), Gardner signed with the Houston Texans in August 2011 where he provided quality depth on the offensive line. The Chamblee, GA, native was a four-year starter at Georgia Tech where he was a two-time first-team All-ACC selection as a junior and senior.

IN THE TRENCHES

- Best part of being an o-lineman: "The camaraderie of the offensive line. It's almost like a team within a team."
- Most challenging aspect on the o-line: "How one mistake can completely change the outcome of a game. One false start or one sack given up at the wrong time can be the difference between a win and a loss."
- Favorite o-lineman of all-time: NFL Hall of Famer Bruce Matthews
- Underrated attribute needed on the o-line: "Being intelligent. You have to understand the playbook, quickly apply it to your assignments and have the ability to make adjustments on the run."
- Position other than o-lineman he would most like to play: Tight end or quarterback
- Best player he ever lined up against: Six-time Pro Bowler Jason Taylor
- Worst part of being 6-6, 308: Being too big for the world. "You have to shop at specialty stores and the airplane seats are too small. [Jokingly] Sometimes I think this world was not designed for o-linemen like me in mind."

2012 HIGHLIGHTS

- Was part of a Texans offensive line that was honored with The Madden Most Valuable Protectors Award during Week 13 of the 2012 season. Named after the Pro Football Hall of Fame coach John Madden, the award celebrates "the loyal teammates in the trenches that most consistently provide the time and protection that is critical to their teammates' and overall team's success"

IT'S ALL GOODE

Najee and his father, John Goode, are the first father-son duo in team history to both take snaps for the Eagles. A former NFL tight end, John played in 14 games for the Eagles in 1985. Said Najee: "When I signed with the Eagles my father told me that the fans in Philly are extremely passionate about their sports teams. He said I should enjoy the moment and just make plays ... I was 4 years old and I knew the Eagles chant - E-A-G-L-E-S, EAGLES! I used to hear my dad do it all the time."

CLOSE CALL

Najee's football career was almost over before it even began after breaking his femur as a freshman in high school. "I remember it to this day," said Najee. "It was on a screen play. The doctors told me I would never be able to play football again because the injury was right on my growth plate."

After surgery and many months of rehab, Najee overcame the odds and returned to the field for the end of his sophomore season. "That year sitting out was very tough for me. I'm just so happy everything worked out."

79 Todd Herremans

Guard/Tackle
6-6, 321
Saginaw Valley State
10th year
Born 10/13/82 in Grand Rapids, MI
Ravenna HS, Ravenna, MI
Acquired - D4b-05 (126th overall)

A mainstay on the Eagles offensive line since 2005, Todd Herremans (HARE-uh-mens) provides leadership and a reliable veteran presence whether he is lining up at guard or tackle. When you are drafted from Saginaw Valley State in the 5th round as Herremans was in 2005, expectations are probably not equal to over 100 career starts at multiple positions with one team in the NFL. He has clearly surpassed them. Herremans battled back from a season-ending foot/ankle injury in 2012, a few months after signing a three-year contract extension that is slated to keep him in an Eagles uniform through 2016. Along with his play, Herremans has solidified himself into the fabric of Philadelphia with many humanitarian efforts through his foundation.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- His 116 career starts and 119 career games played rank 6th and 11th, respectively, in Eagles history for offensive lineman
- A two-time member of USA Today's All-Joe team (2008, 2011), which honors NFL players whose work doesn't necessarily garner headlines, but is integral to the success of their football team
- Caught his second career TD on a two-yard pass from Michael Vick at Dal. (12/12/10). His two career TD receptions are the most ever for an Eagles offensive lineman
- Scored the first TD of his career on a one-yard pass from Donovan McNabb at Sea. (11/2/08). Became just the 2nd offensive lineman in team history to catch a TD pass and the first since Bob Gonya did so on 10/7/34 vs. Pit.

FOCUS ON THE RUN

According to Pro Football Focus, Herremans is graded as the second-best run blocking guard in the NFL, trailing only teammate Evan Mathis.

Player	Grade
E.Mathis, PHI	40.2
T.Herremans, PHI	19.7

- Helped the Eagles set a team record with 442 points scored and 6,676 total net yards

IN THE TRENCHES

- His definition of an O-lineman: "Ultimate team player. They never touch the ball or score points or get highlights on SportsCenter. But no one else is unless we do our job."
- Favorite O-lineman: Evan Mathis. "He isn't super gifted, but he is relentless on the field. I really enjoy watching him.

BIRDSEED

- Growing up in the small town of Ravenna (pronounced ruh-VENN-uh), located in the western part of Michigan, didn't aid in getting Todd recruited to play football at a Division I-A school. In a town that had one blinking street light, one gas station and one privately owned grocery store, the football program was very small. In fact, his senior year team consisted of just 19 players. Although he played tight end, offensive tackle, and defensive tackle, his talented but underexposed career went unnoticed by the big schools. That's why he decided on Saginaw Valley State, a small teaching school at the Division II level, which offered him a scholarship that covered half of his tuition
- Aspires to become an actor one day and enjoys going to live theatre. Was a member of the drama club in high school and played the lead role in the play Tom Jones during his junior year
- Took up chess as a hobby in college and became addicted. Has regularly been involved in Eagles Youth Partnership's annual chess tournament. "When I was in college, one of my buddy's parents brought us a chess set and three or four of us ended up sitting around playing chess all the time. I got into the strategy of the game and liked how you always had to think three or four steps ahead all the time."
- Has a strong interest in drawing and other forms of art. Has worked over the years with various different mediums including chalk, graphite, and water colors

"I believe it's our responsibility to not only go out and play our best on the field, but to help those around us that aren't as fortunate." 79 Todd Herremans

PERSONAL

- Resides in Philadelphia and is engaged to Elizabeth
- His parents, Paul and Marilee, are both teachers. Paul is an 8th-grade math teacher and the JV football coach (he coached Todd) and baseball coach at Ravenna HS. Marilee is a 4th-grade teacher who specializes in Michigan history. Todd had no choice but to have good grades growing up and was an honors student in high school, graduating with a 3.7 GPA. Math was his strength, having taken Calculus 3 as a junior at a local college. At Saginaw Valley State he was not required to take math courses due to those levels reached in high school
- Started the Herremans Scholar Athlete Scholarship, given to three-sport athletes who maintain a 3.0 GPA. He has also pledged money and equipment to both the Saginaw Valley State Football program (most of his donations were used to build a new weight room facility) and the Ravenna High School athletics program. In addition to local community work, he continues to fund and be an advocate of cancer, Alzheimer's, and Autism research as well as anti-bullying. Has a special place in his heart for events that benefit cancer research. Both of his grandparents, Al and Eleanore, died from the disease
- Has two older brothers, John and Scott
- Earned all-state honors in football at Ravenna (MI) HS. Also lettered in basketball, baseball and track and served as senior class vice president

Said Huff, "I used to get hit pretty hard, but I loved playing. But the one moment I will never forget is returning a kickoff and running down the sideline. A big guy had the perfect angle to get me down but I dodged the tackle by running in between his legs and scored."

27 Malcolm Jenkins

Safety
6-0, 204
Ohio State
6th year
Born 12/20/87 in East Orange, NJ
Piscataway HS, Piscataway, NJ
Acquired - FA (NO) 2014

A two-time defensive team captain for the New Orleans Saints, Malcolm Jenkins signed a three-year contract with the Eagles on the first day of free agency in 2014. Originally a first-round draft pick (14th overall) of the Saints in 2009 out of Ohio State, Jenkins has totaled career numbers of 394 tackles, seven sacks, six interceptions (two for TDs), four forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries. In 2013, the safety played in 14 games and set career highs in sacks (2.5) and forced fumbles (2). The six-year veteran launched the Malcolm Jenkins Foundation in 2010 in an effort to enhance the lives of children in underserved communities.

65 Lane Johnson

Tackle
6-6, 317
Oklahoma
2nd year
Born 5/8/90 in Groveton, TX
Groveton HS, Groveton Texas
Acquired - D1-13 (4th overall)

A physically gifted athlete who played collegiately as a quarterback, tight end and defensive lineman before transitioning to the offensive line, Johnson started in all 16 games in his rookie campaign after being selected 4th overall by the Eagles in 2013. At Oklahoma, started 25 contests (13 at left tackle, 12 at right tackle), and garnered 2nd-team All-Big 12 honors as a senior. A native of Groveton, TX, he was an accomplished quarterback in high school.

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his NFL debut at Was. (9/9) and became the first rookie offensive lineman to start at tackle on opening day for the Eagles since John Welbourn in 1999 and the second rookie offensive lineman to start the season opener in the last three years (C Jason Kelce in 2011)
- Was part of an offensive line that helped block for the NFL's leading rusher LeSean McCoy, who finished with a franchise-best 1,607 yards
- Helped the Eagles set a team record with 442 points scored and 6,676 total net yards

BIRDSEED

- Credits his mother, Ray Ann, for being where he is today. "She was a single mother and she raised me by herself. She didn't have a lot. But she made sure I was happy." Ray Ann has a degree in criminal justice and works at a prison in Riverside, TX, with death row inmates

- Kilgore College head coach J.J. Eckert on his progression, "One day we were in a goal line drill and we were short a tight end due to injuries and we have this big monster (Lane) sitting right next to us. We said, 'Could you go play tight end on this play? Just run thru the C-gap and if you see someone, just hit 'em.' Well, he pancaked a linebacker and Division I college coaches were there and his stock went high basically just on one play in a goal line drill."

LIFE IN THE FAST LANE

Johnson's not-so-normal path to becoming an offensive lineman and a first round pick in the NFL draft had many layers. First off, Johnson did not start playing football until the 7th grade when he lined up as a quarterback for his middle school squad in Coldspring, TX. He earned all-state honors as a QB in high school, while also seeing action at wide receiver as a freshman and at free safety for his final three seasons.

Lane began his college career at Kilgore College where, at 202 pounds, quarterbacked the Rangers in 2008 (pictured above). After transferring to Oklahoma as a tight end in 2009, he redshirted for one year before playing tight end and defensive end in 2010. He finally settled in as a right offensive tackle in 2011 before moving to the left side in 2012 (pictured right).

Said Chip Kelly after the 2013 draft, "I talked to [Oklahoma coach] Bob [Stoops]. Bob actually said they wanted to keep him at defensive end, he was playing defensive end at 280 pounds and doing a great job for them. They had some injuries on the offensive line and they thought about him. His direct quote when he asked the strength coach, 'What would it take to get Lane to tackle?' He said, 'A cheeseburger and a week.'"

Punter

Born 7/5/80 in Baton Rouge, LA
Baton Rouge Catholic HS, Baton Rouge, LA
Acquired - FA (Hou) 2013

A veteran of 11 NFL seasons, Donnie Jones signed a three-year deal with the Eagles following the 2013 season after proving to be a difference maker on special teams in his first year with the Birds. Jones set franchise records in net punting average (40.4) while downing a career-high 33 kicks inside the 20-yard line in his first year with the team, and became just the fourth punter in league history to garner NFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors in consecutive games in the same season. A two-time All-Pro selection with St. Louis from 2008-09, Jones is one of seven players in NFL history to record a 50.0 gross punting average in a single season, accomplishing that feat in 2008.

34 Henry Josey

Running Back
5-8, 194
Missouri
Rookie
Born 9/25/91 in Angleton, TX
Angleton HS, Angleton, TX
Acquired - Rookie FA (2014)

Henry Josey signed with the Eagles as a rookie free agent following the 2014 NFL Draft. A star running back at the University of Missouri, Josey's resiliency was on display in 2013 when he returned from a season-ending knee injury and finished second in the SEC with 16 rushing touchdowns in addition to 1,166 rushing yards. He is only the second running back in school history to post two 1,000-yard seasons in a career. An all-district selection at both running back and defensive back at Angleton (TX) High School, Josey recorded 1,369 rushing yards and 15 touchdowns as a senior in 2009.

BIRDSEED

- Due to his size and shifty running style, Josey has often drawn comparisons to Eagles running back Darren Sproles. "I've been compared to Darren Sproles with the way I run, and I'm able to catch out of the backfield. It's just exciting to be mentioned in the same boat as guys like him"
- Underrated attribute needed to be a successful running back: "Intelligence. Everybody thinks speed is the biggest factor, but you're facing guys that are just as fast as you. Some of these linebackers can run a 4.3. It's just the knowledge of understanding how to play running back and how to outsmart your opponent."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Is one of only two running backs in program history to post two 1,000-yard seasons in a career
- Registered 2,771 rushing yards and 30 touchdowns in three seasons at Missouri
- Was awarded with the 2014 AT&T Cotton Bowl Sanford Trophy which is presented to the game's top offensive player. In a 41-31 victory over Oklahoma State, Josey totaled three touchdowns, which included the game-winning score, on 92 yards rushing
- As a redshirt junior in 2013, finished second in the SEC with 16 rushing touchdowns, while tallying 1,166 rushing yards
- Sat out the entire 2012 season while recovering from a knee injury that was sustained late in 2011
- In 2011, was named a first-team All-Big 12 selection and was also tabbed Missouri's MVP and offensive back of the year after totaling the fifth-best rushing output in team history (1,168 yards). Prior to his season-ending knee injury late in the year, he led the Big 12 in rushing and ranked fifth nationally
- Selected as Missouri's freshman of the year in 2010 after finishing second on the team with 437 rushing yards, while adding five touchdowns on the ground

ROAD TO RECOVERY

Despite being one of only two running backs in Missouri history to rush for 1,000 yards in two seasons, Josey's path to the NFL did not come without some obstacles along the way. During his sophomore campaign, Josey led the Big 12 and ranked fifth nationally in rushing before he saw his professional aspirations flash before his eyes.

On November 12, 2011, a University of Texas defender grabbed Josey from behind, causing the back to fall backwards on his knee. The result was an injury that Mizzou team trainer Rex Sharp described as "the worst knee injury we had ever seen." Josey tore his ACL, MCL, meniscus and patellar tendon, and faced a strenuous, uphill battle to not only to play football again, but to be able to walk.

658 days, three surgeries and a grueling rehabilitation later, Josey returned to the field, rushing for 113 yards and a touchdown on 13 carries vs. Murray State. He finished his junior season with 16 rushing touchdowns (second in the SEC) and 1,166 yards on the ground.

When asked about his favorite personal moment in sports, Josey replied, "The moment I am in now. I had the game taken away from me and being able to play it again, I'm just blessed.""

- His brother, Tim, played football at Eastern Illinois and is currently an offensive quality control coach for the Houston Texans

FAN OF THE SQUARED CIRCLE

An avid professional wrestling fan, Kelly does not let the opportunity pass him by whenever a live WWE show is in town. "I've been to a ton of events, including a few pay-per-views," said Kelly. Also stated that he would like to trade places one day with WWE stars The Rock and The Undertaker. "I would really like to see what a wrestler's daily and yearly schedule is like. It seems like it would be a very interesting profession, but at the same time, a very challenging lifestyle." Kelly added that if he could have dinner with one person in the world, it would be The Undertaker.

IN THE TRENCHES

- Favorite offensive lineman of all-time: Former Rams tackle Orlando Pace. "He forever changed the way offensive linemen are labeled. Furthermore, if you have a stat grid created for you as an offensive lineman [referencing Pace], it's certainly telling of how you were as a player."
- Most challenging aspect of the job: "Putting everything together both mentally and physically. From your decision making, to reading the defense and various blitz packages, to the different schemes - it takes a lot of patience and concentration."
- Most underrated attribute at tackle: "The one-on-one aspect of the game. Although you're competing as an offense and as a line to accomplish certain goals, tackle is the only offensive position where you are put out on an island or out in space and have a protection assignment."
- Worst part of being 6-8, 321: "You can't hide anywhere and you always stand out in public. It's always tough to go shopping for shoes, shirts and pants as well. Shirts are either too big or not long enough."

PERSONAL

- A three-year starter at tight end at Marian Catholic HS for coach Dave Mattio
- Was an all-area selection and team captain as a senior and earned all-area honorable mention accolades as a junior
- Also played basketball
- Favorite aspect of Philadelphia: "It's close to everything. I love how the sports stadiums and facilities are so close to one another. The city is also close to the beach and it's only an hour or so to New York, also."
- Best part about playing football: "The family feeling that a football team provides. Even though there is a competitive nature in every aspect of the sport, it's great to bond with your teammates."
- Pregame rituals: "I have a playlist that changes every year and I'll listen to that before every game. I also make it a point to read the game program."
- Claims that actor and stand-up comedian Brad Garrett (Robert Barone from Everybody Loves Raymond) would play him in a movie. Said Kelly, "People in college compared me to him because of how deep our voices are." Also said that Jason Momoa (Khal Drogo from HBO's Game of Thrones) would be another actor to play him
- Favorite athletes growing up included Ken Griffey, Jr. and Jevon Kearse. Currently likes to watch Derrick Rose and LeBron James
- Working towards a degree in organizational leadership and supervision
- Son of Michael, a retired engineer, and Geralyn, a retired school principal and special ed teacher
- He and his wife, Jerianna, reside in South Philadelphia
- Went back to school in the 2014 offseason to earn his degree in organizational leadership

A second round draft choice of the Eagles in 2012, the speedy, playmaking Mychal Kendricks was immediately inserted as a starter on the Eagles defense in his rookie campaign and developed as one of unit's top performers in his second year. - Recorded 10 tackles at Was. (9/9) and recovered a fumble of Alfred Morris on the Redskins opening offensive play. The turnover led to an Eagles TD on the ensuing drive

BRILLIANT BACKERS - 2013

Mychal Kendricks and DeMeco Ryans became the first linebacker duo in Eagles history to each post 4+sacks and 2+ INTs in the same season.

BIRDSEED

- Mychal's father, Marvin, was on the Eagles training camp roster in 1972 after playing college football at UCLA, where he led the Bruins in rushing twice in 1970 and 1971. Said Mychal: "He was so happy the day I got drafted here because the Eagles were his team. I remember being so excited, but he may have even been more excited. He followed them all the time when I was growing up. It was a dream come true for the both of us."

THREE-STEP DROP

Talent he'd most like to have: Ability to sing
Person he'd trade places with for a day: Oprah
First job: Worked the concession stands for several local semi-pro teams

PERSONAL

- His three brothers all played or currently play college football: Chad (graduated Sacramento State), Terence (graduated Fresno State) and Eric (sophomore at UCLA)
- Most underrated attribute of playing linebacker: "You need to be a little crazy. All good linebackers either have a few screws loose or a few screws wound too tight. It's a high-contact position and you need to not only not be afraid to constantly hit people, you need to love it. Only crazy people can do that."
- A huge fan of former Broncos running back Terrell Davis growing up, Kendricks donned #30 in college in honor of him
- Starred at Hoover HS in Fresno, CA, leading his club with 175 tackles and 4.0 sacks as a senior, while also registering a team-best 742 rushing yards on 103 carries and six touchdowns as well as 1,035 all purpose yards
- Parents are Yvonne Thagon and Marvin Kendricks. Yvonne is a pharmacist technician and Marvin is a retired social worker. Also has a stepmother, Joanne, who is a medical sales rep for Merck

A MAN OF MANY TALENTS

While he was always known for his athletic talents on the field growing up, Kendricks' passion off the field is in the fine arts. In fact, Kendricks attended Bullard Talent, a private school that specializes in the fine arts from kindergarten thru 8th grade. While there, Kendricks acted in plays like Robin Hood, Aladdin and the Lion King. He also learned to dance in hip-hop, urban, tap and jazz styles. Said Kendricks: "I really have an appreciation for all kinds of art and going there really instilled that in me at a young age. I would go there during the day and then play sports for other schools. I remember you'd have to win a raffle to get your kids in, so my mom did that for me and I got lucky."

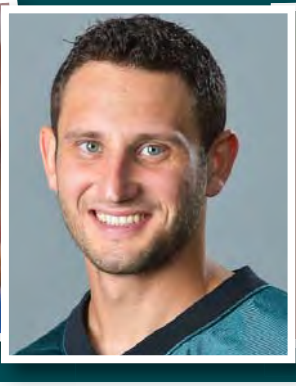
4 G.J. Kinne

Quarterback
6-2, 234
Tulsa
1st year
Born 12/1/88 in Gilmer, TX
Gilmer HS, Gilmer, TX
Acquired - FA (13)



A former standout at the University of Tulsa, G.J. Kinne is in his second season in Philadelphia after spending the latter half of the 2013 season on the practice squad. Kinne spent the 2013 training camp and preseason with the Eagles before being released on the final roster cut down. Kinne was originally signed by the NY Jets as a rookie free agent in 2012. After being released by the Jets in June, Kinne held stints with the Omaha Nighthawks of the UFL and the San Antonio Talons of the Arena Football League. The Mesquite, TX, native was the 2010 Conference USA Offensive Player of the Year

BIRDSEED

- In 2014 offseason, coached a spring select football team of middle schoolers in North Texas that played in the Texas School of Football league. "I love giving back to the kids of Mesquite, TX, and help teach them the fundamentals of football and just general lessons of life."
- Kinne has some familiar faces in Philadelphia with two Tulsa connections - WR Damaris Johnson and offensive quality control coach Press Taylor. Johnson caught a slew of passes from Kinne, who was tutored by Taylor, Tulsa's former QB coach
- Was recruited and offered to play linebacker by Oklahoma. "I really thought about doing it. They were my second offer behind Baylor. I really liked Brent Venables [now the defensive coordinator at Clemson]. But my heart was at quarterback." He eventually signed with Texas as a quarterback before transferring to Tulsa.
- Played for five different offensive coordinators in five years: Greg Davis (now OC at Iowa) in 2007 at Texas, Gus Malzahn (now head coach at Auburn) in 2008 at Tulsa, Herb Hand (now run game coordinator at Penn State), Mike Norvell (now offensive coordinator at Arizona State) in 2009 at Tulsa, Chad Morris (now offensive coordinator at Clemson) in 2010 at Tulsa and Greg Peterson in 2011 at Tulsa
- G.J.'s father, Gary Joe Kinne, attended training camp with the Eagles in 1990 following a standout career at Baylor. G.J. grew up an Eagles fan due to his dad's stint with the team and admired Eagles QB Donovan McNabb
- Favorite personal moment in sports growing up: Traveling to Notre Dame and defeating the Fighting Irish, 28-27, in 2010. Kinne led the Golden Hurricane to a touchdown on their opening drive and completed 18-of-34 passes for 196 yards and one score (a nine-yard pass to Damaris Johnson), while leading the team in rushing with 20 carries for 78 yards
- Believes that the most underrated attribute at the quarterback position is the ability to extend the play and be a playmaker outside of the pocket. Kinne proved to be a threat to score through the air and on the ground. In his three years with the Golden Hurricane, Kinne rushed for 1,359 yards and 15 scores, while leading the team in rushing in both his sophomore and junior campaigns

PERSONAL

- Was a prep All-American quarterback at Gilmer High School where he finished his career ranked third in Texas high school history in passing yards (11,695) and second in touchdown passes (130). He also rushed for 3,327 yards and 48 touchdowns in his four seasons
- A four-year starter at quarterback and also started as a free safety for three years, he accounted for touchdowns in six different ways (pass, rush, receiving, kick return, punt return and interception return) in high school
- As a senior, threw for 3,216 yards and 47 TDs with only one interception, while rushing for 400 yards and 11 touchdowns, garnering Class 3A Offensive Player of the Year honors
- Played his senior season at Gilmer High School and his first three years at Canton (TX) High School and led his teams to an overall 38-9 record
- Also played baseball (outfield and catcher), basketball (forward), and track (400x4, 110 hurdles, and long jump) in high school. He was named all-state in baseball as a sophomore and all-district in basketball as a senior
- Majored in business at Tulsa
- Son of Gary Joe Kinne and Jocelyne Carter and has three brothers, McLane Carter, Landry Kinne and the late Desmond Pollard, and one sister, Kellie. Desmond, who was nationally recruited as a wide receiver, tragically passed away on March 2, 2014. Gary Joe is a high school football coach in Texas.
- Has three dogs: Gus, an American Bulldog, Captain, a Jack Russell Terrier, and Scout, a mixed breed.
- Full name is Gary Joe Kinne

THREE-STEP DROP

First job: Working in an oil field in Oklahoma making $10/hour

Funniest Eagle: Lane Johnson

MIRACULOUS RECOVERY

While Kinne was a junior at Canton High School, his father, former Baylor linebacker and then-Canton football coach Gary Joe Kinne, was shot in the chest by a disgruntled parent of one of the players in the school's football program. G.J. was told by a police officer that his father had passed away, only to find out later that Gary Joe had survived his injuries despite being given a 10 percent chance to live. Five surgeries and three weeks later, Gary Joe was released from the hospital.

"Obviously, that was a very difficult time," said Kinne. "It forced me to grow up really fast. I thought I was mentally tough as a kid, but that really put everything into perspective. Family is the most important thing."

Amazingly, Gary Joe returned to the sidelines later that year and is currently the director of athletics at Sherman (TX) High School.

54 Jake Knott

Linebacker
6-2, 243
Iowa St.
2nd year
Born 10/24/90 in Kansas City, MO
Waukee HS, Waukee, IA
Acquired - Rookie FA (2013)

A college standout at Iowa State, Jake Knott signed with the Eagles as a rookie free agent during the 2013 offseason. A first-team All-Big 12 honoree, Knott collared 347 tackles, eight interceptions and 10 forced fumbles during his four-year career. Despite suffering a shoulder injury that prematurely ended his senior season, he earned first-team All-Big 12 honors and finished the season with 79 tackles, which moved him into sixth place on the Cyclones' all-time tackle leaderboard.

BIRDSEED

- One of the most challenging times in Knott's life took place as a senior at Iowa State. After tearing his labrum against Baylor as a junior, he underwent surgery and rehabbed his way back to full strength until he reaggravated his left shoulder in 2012 at Oklahoma State. Looking at the upcoming schedule, it was doubtful as to whether he was going to play. After much perseverance and a week with his arm in a sling, Knott returned to the field and helped lead the Cyclones to a homecoming victory over Baylor. His 11 tackles and forced fumble in the game awarded him with Big 12 Defensive Player of the Week honors

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his NFL debut at Was. (9/9) and recovered an onside kick with 1:14 remaining in the fourth to secure a 33-27 Eagles victory

HOMERUN HITTER

An accomplished baseball player growing up, Knott was originally offered a few scholarships out of high school. In fact, as a sophomore, he participated in a baseball showcase at Kauffman Stadium, the home of the Kansas City Royals, where he belted a home run during a live scrimmage. Weeks after signing with the Eagles, he returned to the field and threw out the first pitch at a Royals game.

INJURY REPORT

- Placed on Injured Reserve on 8/30 with a shoulder injury sustained during the preseason

THERE'S ALWAYS A SILVER LINING

Joe's older brother, Paul, has been a major influence on his life not just because of his NFL success, but of his resiliency after two near-death experiences. As a teenager, Paul lost one of his kidneys and spleen in a bizarre Jeep accident and then suffered a collapsed lung after being stabbed by a stranger in downtown Salt Lake City while hosting his younger brother, Dave, on a college recruiting trip. "My brother has been through a lot," said Joe. "He has set a good example for me and has been a fantastic big brother. What really impressed me was the fact that Paul returned to the football field less than a year after his stabbing and helped lead Utah to an undefeated season. Now that I am in the NFL, he has done a great job of showing me the ropes."

96 Bennie Logan

Defensive Tackle
6-2, 315
LSU
2nd year
Born 12/28/89 in Coushatta, LA
Red River HS, Coushatta, LA
Acquired - D3-13 (67th overall)

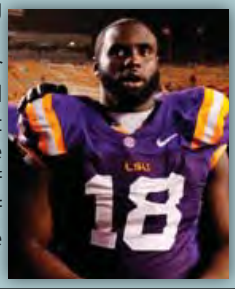
A 3rd round draft choice of the Eagles in 2013, Bennie Logan immediately stepped in and contributed on the team's defensive line, starting the final eight games of the regular season at nose tackle. The Coushatta, LA, native helped anchor LSU's defensive line and wore the famed #18 jersey during his final season in Baton Rouge

BIRDSEED

- Credits his grandmother, Ella Faye Bonner, and his cousin, Harry Gary, as the two biggest influences in his life. "My grandmother is my hero because when my mother passed away, she took me in and raised me from junior high to high school and even helped me through college," said Logan. "My cousin, Harry, pushed me to work hard and motivated me and stayed on me. He paid for me to go to LSU's camp and that's when I really came onto the scene. Without him helping me by paying for me to go the camp and by pushing me to work hard, I wouldn't be in the place that I am."
- If Logan could trade places with one person for one day, he would like to experience what it is like to be homeless. "I come from a background that wasn't the best and it would be interesting to see how it is to live without a house and to have to look for food every day. It would make you more appreciative and would make you stop taking things for granted."
- While attending a 76ers-Rockets game in 2013, was mistaken for Rockets star James Harden by a 76ers fan. "He just wanted to take a picture with me. I laughed and said I wasn't Harden. He apologized and probably still doesn't who I am."
- Believes that if he wasn't playing football, he would be in the law enforcement field, either as an FBI agent or a U.S. Marshal. "Growing up as a little kid, I always wanted to be a fire fighter or a police officer," Logan stated. "As I got older, I learned more about the expert fields of law enforcement. I started watching more shows about the U.S. Marshals and the FBI and saw all the things that they do. It made me want to travel all over the world and hunt for fugitives like they do."

LUCKY NO. 18

At LSU, it has become a tradition for a player who possesses a selfless attitude to don the prestigious No. 18 jersey. The tradition of the number, which has become synonymous with success both on and off the field, originated in 2003 when LSU QB Matt Mauck helped guide the school to its first national championship since 1958. Entering his junior season, Logan was presented with the honor by graduating LSU DB Brandon Taylor.



Said Logan: "Number 18 is passed on for good leadership on and off the field, good character, taking care of business, not causing any problems, going to class. The coaches, training staff and equipment staff vote on who should wear number 18. So if you have friends on the team, they can't vote for you."

A native of Spokane, Wa., Long earned first-team all-state honors at Gonzaga Prep High School.

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Finished his collegiate career with 201 tackles (42 tackles for loss), and 20.5 sacks while starting all 47 games for the Cougars during his four years on campus

- Earned honorable mention all-conference honors as a true freshman, racking up 47 tackles 6.5 tackles for loss and two sacks while starting all 12 games

BAD TIMING

Travis Long capped off a successful college career with a breakout year as a senior, recording a career-high 9.5 sacks in 2012. However, Long suffered a torn ACL in his second to last game. "It was really unfortunate timing for me," said Long. "I wanted to be out there playing, first and foremost. But, I wasn't invited to the combine and I couldn't perform at our Pro Day. So, I think NFL teams kind of forgot about me."

Long did not get drafted or signed as a rookie free agent. Instead, he kept rehabbing and waiting for that call. It finally came in the middle of the summer. "My doctors cleared me in July and the Eagles got on the phone with me pretty much right away. It was a dream come true."

After an impressive preseason with the team in 2013, Long spent his rookie campaign on the Eagles practice squad. "I've played with a chip on my shoulder my entire life," said Long. "I wasn't heavily recruited in high school, and then the injury happened in college. It's made me that much hungrier."

Obviously, the family I lived with. They definitely played a big part in why I'm here. I learned a lot of things from my real family, too ... Originally a rookie free agent signing of San Francisco in 2010, Maragos has recorded 34 special teams tackles in 46 career games with the Seattle Seahawks (2011-13) and 49ers (2010). In 2013, Maragos recorded nine special teams tackles while seeing action as a reserve safety for the Super Bowl Champion Seahawks. A two-year letterman at Wisconsin, Maragos earned honorable mention All-Big Ten Accolades as a senior in 2009.

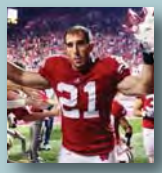
THE SOCIAL NETWORK

Maragos got help on his path to the NFL from an unlikely source - Facebook. "I was playing as a walk-on receiver at Western Michigan for two years, but it was always a dream of mine to play at Wisconsin," said Maragos. "My brother was the mascot there and he knew some guys on the team. So, I decided to use that and give it a shot."

Maragos looked up Wisconsin's starting wide receiver Luke Swann on Facebook and sent him a message. "I told him my brother was Bucky Badger. I told him I played receiver and wanted the shot to play at Wisconsin. He responded and got my film in front of the coaches. Next thing I knew they were asking me to walk on. It was amazing how it worked out."

Shortly after transferring, Maragos was asked by the coaches to move to the defense. He ended up playing two seasons for the Badgers, received a scholarship offer his senior year and was named the school's student athlete of the year following that season. "It was a dream come true," said Maragos.



PERSONAL

- He and his wife, Serah, have two sons, Micah and Mason
- Son of Nick and Cindy Maragos. Father, Nick, was a former free safety at Northern Iowa
- Brother, Troy, also played his college ball at Wisconsin and also was the team's mascot
- As a three-year starter, two-time captain and team MVP at William Horlick HS (WI), earned all-state, all-southeast conference, all-district and all-county accolades as a wide receiver
- Was named Wisconsin's Gatorade Player of the Year in 2004
- Also competed in track & field where he finished third in the 100/m dash and fifth in the 200/m dash as a senior

31 Curtis Marsh

Cornerback
6-1, 197
Utah State
4th year
Born 3/1/88 in West Hills, CA
Royal HS, Simi Valley, CA
Acquired - D3-11 (90th overall)

Originally a third-round selection of the Eagles in the 2011 NFL Draft, Curtis Marsh re-signed with Philadelphia on 11/5/13 after a brief stint with the Cincinnati Bengals in 2013. Marsh spent two seasons with the Birds before being waived as part of the team's final roster cutdown prior to the start of the 2013 season. After not receiving a scholarship out of high school, Marsh starred at Utah State, spending his final two years at corner after converting from running back following his sophomore season. He earned second-team All-WAC honors at the conclusion of his senior campaign.

BIRDSEED

- Credits his college defensive backs coach, Cory Raymond (now with LSU), as the biggest influence on his career. "He taught me everything I know about playing cornerback. I woke up every morning at 6 am to work on technique with him in the summer after I moved to cornerback."
- Captured the Pop Warner Super Bowl as a 12-year-old running back and cornerback for the Simi Valley Vikings. Opposing Simi Valley in that championship game was the Agoura Chargers, led by current Eagles teammate Casey Matthews. "I still talk trash to him all the time about that game," laughed Marsh
- Following his one season of football at the Naval Academy Prep School in 2006, Marsh quickly began calling and e-mailing coaches looking for Division I football scholarships. Utah State obliged and Marsh is forever thankful despite his family's wishes for him to remain in the Naval Academy
- Is very generous when it comes to the community. In April 2014, Marsh participated in an alumni golf tournament where proceeds benefited Utah State Athletics. He donates his cleats and gloves to Royal HS every year and has also donated money to his former Pop Warner football team in Simi Valley

BOOT CAMP TO THE FIELD

After receiving no scholarship offers coming out of high school in California, Marsh enrolled at the Naval Academy and was sent to Newport, RI, to the Naval Academy Prep School for the 2006 season. He endured boot camp while attending school and playing football. Along the way, he gained a valuable life lesson. "I'm self-sufficient now. I got over homesickness really fast. Boot camp was very intense, mentally," recalled Marsh.

FLOAT LIKE A BUTTERFLY...

Entering his junior season at Utah State, Marsh made the switch from RB to CB. As part of the transition, his position coach at the time, Corey Raymond, suggested that he take up boxing. "It helps improve my balance, quickness and hand-eye coordination," says Marsh. "I train just like a boxer - high intensity jumprope, speed bag, heavy bag and in-ring combos." Marsh works out with amateur boxing legend and current Bernard Hopkins trainer, Danny Davis.

PERSONAL

- Names his mother, Trayci, as the biggest hero in his life. "She was a single mom, worked two to three jobs and struggled to keep it together for us. She sacrificed a lot and I bought her a house in Simi Valley," said Marsh
- His father, Curtis Marsh, Sr., was a wide receiver for Jacksonville (1995-96) and Pittsburgh (1997). He played collegiately at Utah
- Has three brothers and one sister, including his younger brother, Cassius, who was drafted by the Seahawks in the 2014 NFL Draft (108th overall)
- Committed to play football for the US Naval Academy out of high school and spent the 2006 season at the Naval Academy Prep School in Newport, RI. Signed with Utah State in December 2006

81 Jordan Matthews

Wide Receiver
6-3, 212
Vanderbilt
Rookie
Born 7/16/92 in Madison, AL
Madison Academy, Madison, AL
Acquired - D2-14 (42nd overall)

One of the most prolific receivers in SEC history, Jordan Matthews was selected by the Eagles in the second round of the 2014 NFL Draft. The Southeastern Conference's all-time leader in receptions (262) and receiving yards (3,759), Matthews earned All-America honors and first-team All-SEC recognition in both his junior and senior campaigns. As a senior in 2013, Matthews established a new SEC record with 112 catches and tied for the third-highest single-season receiving yardage total with 1,477 yards. A native of Madison, AL, he was a three-year starter at wide receiver and earned team MVP honors as a senior captain in 2009, recording 61 catches for 1,061 yards and 13 touchdowns as a wideout.

BIRDSEED

- Matthews is a cousin of Hall of Fame wide receiver Jerry Rice, the NFL's all-time leader in receptions (1,549), receiving yardage (22,895) and touchdown receptions (197). Matthews and Rice have spoken several times and a pre-draft conversation between the two wideouts sticks out most to the Vanderbilt product. "The conversation that sticks out most with me was the one that we had before the whole draft process," said Matthews. "[Rice] told me that every checkpoint that you go to, go into it like you're the best one there. Not to use a cliche, but own the moment. Really feel that there's no one there that can mess with me. With those checkpoints of course being Pro Day, Combine and then individual workouts and team interviews"
- Matthews didn't start playing football until he became the subject of some playful ribbing from his classmates in grade school. "I was getting made fun of by my friends because I played soccer," he said. "I was really good at soccer and had really good feet. I was asked to join a couple of travel teams, but I was getting made fun of by some of my best friends. So it was time to go play football. I always played football with my dad and at school in PE and was always good. I just never went out and actually joined the football team"
- During the offseason, Matthews turns his attention to skill and endurance work to stay in peak physical condition. "The stuff that I do on my own is strictly endurance and skill work. When I'm by myself, I have a hill back home that I run outside of my school. I have a training regiment that I do on a treadmill. Then just the skill work. I love going out with my guys. When I was in college, once we got through the workout week on Monday through Friday, we'd go out on Saturday and do seven-on-sevens. That's my favorite part about thing...just getting out there any playing football"

"Jordan has all the physical things that are going to allow him to be successful at the next level. The thing I'm most excited about is how driven that guy is. When your best player on your team is also your hardest-working guy, that's unbelievably valuable. And he's smart. They're going to be able to use him in a lot of different ways."

- Former Vanderbilt head coach and current Penn State head coach James Franklin

- Named first-team 3A All-State wide receiver and All-Elite 11 by the Huntsville Times
- Ended his prep career with 181 receptions, 3,218 yards and 38 touchdown catches
- Was also a standout in basketball, helping the school to one state championship and three state title game appearances while garnering all-state honors as a senior
- Claims if he could trade places with one person for one day, it would be Kanye West. "That's my dude. If I could do anything with Kanye West, that would be awesome. If I could trade places with him, I'd go meet me and be like, 'Kanye, I'm you now.' That'd be great"
- Son of Roderick and Brenda Matthews and has an older brother, Justin. Roderick is a contracting specialist for the Army and Brenda is a computer engineer
- Owns a beagle named Throwback

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

It's not often you hear that someone who did not play organized sports their entire childhood ends up in the NFL. But that's exactly what happened with Frances Mays.

"I never played sports," said Mays. "I don't really have a good reason why, I just never did. Then when I was 18, I was a senior in high school, I figured I'd give football a shot."

Ironically, Mays says the person who first put the idea in his head was the school janitor. Said Mays: "Everybody knows him as 'Big E.' And he would always tell me with my size, it's a shame I'm not on the football team. I'm glad I listened to him."

Following high school, Mays spent two years playing football at Central Lakes Community college before earning a full scholarship to Florida A&M. Two years after that, he signed his rookie free agent contract with the Eagles. "Now that I've been playing football, I don't know how I ever did without it. I love it, love the physicality of the game, love the competition. It changed my life. It's funny how things work out sometimes," quipped Mays.

63 David Molk

Center
6-1, 290
Michigan
2nd year
Born 12/15/88 in Palos Hills, IL
Lemont Township HS, Lemont, IL
Acquired - FA 2014

Originally a seventh-round draft selection of San Diego in 2012, David Molk signed as a free agent with the Eagles during the 2014 offseason after spending the previous season out of football. A four-year starter at the University of Michigan, Molk appeared in 12 games as a reserve lineman for the Chargers during his rookie campaign but was released as part of the team's final roster cut-down the following season. Molk earned the 2011 Big Ten Conference Rimington-Pace Offensive Lineman of the Year Award after helping Michigan rank second in the conference and 13th nationally in rushing as a senior.

BIRDSEED

- During warmups of the 2012 Sugar Bowl, Molk felt a pop in his foot and, under the direction of the Michigan coaching staff, did not start the contest. However, after seeing the offense struggle on the first series of the game in part to a couple of errant snaps, Molk inserted himself into the game and didn't miss a snap for the remainder of the contest, helping the Wolverines rally to a 23-20 victory over Virginia Tech
- Favorite thing about playing football: "It truly is a test of will, fortitude, strength, speed. It's a one-on-one matchup and battle and it's all happening at one time. Every play is something different -- a different scenario and a different situation. With football, it's one thing that's ever-changing, so you never really get to the point where you are beating everyone at everything because there's always some guy or some scheme or blitz that you have to pick up and adapt to."
- Favorite personal moment in sports growing up: "My favorite personal moment in sports was when I was in eighth grade. We were driving down the field and I was on the offensive line at the time. The running back tailed off at the end of a run at the two-yard line. I got put in at running back to finish the drive and, obviously, I had no idea what I was doing. But I made it in and the best part about it was I was then able to take that ball and I ran it up to my mom and that was the last game she ever saw."

IN THE TRENCHES

- Underrated attribute needed to be a successful offensive lineman: "Speed. Most people think of an offensive lineman as a big, fat slug that grabs someone and pushes them. They don't realize how much footwork and agility and balance it takes."
- Most challenging aspect of playing o-line: "I'd say the most challenging thing about being an offensive lineman is the ability to maintain a certain amount of strength, especially with the way that I play at my size. How I've survived is I've always had to be stronger, faster and more balanced than anyone that I play against just to be there and then I have to be a step ahead and know what they're doing before they do it and anticipate everything so I can come out ahead."
- Biggest influence on his football career: "Training-wise, the reason why I know so much about weightlifting and strength training is a man named Mike Barwis. He was my strength coach in college and he's the 'God of Lifting' -- an absolute genius. It wasn't just a strength coach saying, 'Oh, just do this because I said so.' He'll tell you the scientific reason and neurological pathway reason why that exercise translates to this which makes this happen on the field. It was amazing."

PERSONAL

- Was a team captain and four-year starter at Lemont Township (IL) High School, where he earned first-team all-state honors as a senior
- Garnered all-area and All-Suburban Prairie Conference honors twice during his high school career
- Also threw shotput in high school and holds the school's record for longest throw
- Son of Tom and the late Gail Molk. Tom owns his own business selling electric heating
- Claims his father as the biggest influence in his life: "He's a guy that worked for his dad when he was really young. Didn't go to college. At 19, he started his own business and grew it to where it is now. He's doing very well for himself and it's all off of hard work and dedication. That's how I want to want to live my life."
- Graduated with a degree in sports management

80 Ifeanyi Momah

Wide Receiver
6-7, 239
Boston College
1st year
Born 10/23/89 in Greenlawn, NY
Elwood-John H. Glenn HS, Elwood, NY
Acquired - FA 2014

After spending the entirety of the 2013 offseason with the Eagles before being released as part of the team's final roster cutdown, Ifeanyi Momah (pronounced uh-FAH-nee MOE-ma) re-signed with Philadelphia during the 2014 offseason. A standout receiver at Boston College, Momah recorded a career-high 8 receptions for 171 yards in the season opener of his senior campaign in 2011 before suffering a knee injury that ultimately kept him out of football for the next two years. The Greenlawn, NY, native earned all-state honors as a senior wide receiver and defensive end at Elwood-John H. Glenn High School, while also competing on the school's basketball and track teams.

BIRDSEED

- Aside from his demanding role as a D-I student-athlete, Momah found time to serve as a freshman orientation leader while at Boston College. Each week he would be assigned nearly 80 students where his job was to introduce them to the school and college life. In fact, part of the program required him to act out skits on stage in front of the group. Momah claims that he still keeps in touch with many of his former pupils
- As a senior at Boston College, Momah was a top executive for his institution's Uplifting Athletes chapter. The national nonprofit's goal is to align college football with rare diseases. Momah was a class below teammate, Mark Herzlich, who missed the entire 2009 season due to Ewing's sarcoma, a rare form of bone cancer. Momah is still very active with the BC chapter
- Is hoping to become the first 6-7 wide receiver to play for the Eagles since the one and only, Harold Carmichael. "I always knew about Harold growing up since we were kind of the same unique body-type at receiver," said Ifeanyi. "When I met him on my visit here at the Eagles, I sat back and just thought, 'Wow, this is amazing.' I'm just glad that he's here, hopefully I'll be able to pick his brain."

KNOWING YOUR ROOTS

Ifeanyi's parents, Nathan and Gloria, grew up in the same neighborhood in Nigeria and immigrated to the United States as a couple when they were teenagers so they could attend college. Nathan is now a professional engineer and Gloria is a nurse. "I have a lot of family in Nigeria and I've been there a bunch of times," said Ifeanyi. "It puts everything in perspective when I visit, just how lucky I am."

Momah's grandmother, Mabel, often visits them in the US and brings back clothing to donate back in Nigeria. Said Ifeanyi: "Our family is always trying to help out the best we can. It's the right thing to do."

PERSONAL

- Prior to every game and even before some practices, he prays and reads the Bible verse Philippians 4:13
- An underrated attribute needed at the wide receiver position, according to Momah, is mental toughness. "You'll go strong for eight plays in a row and people just expect you to keep going. There's much more to it than that. You need to push yourself every play, but at the same time, you need the mental fortitude to do so."
- If he could have dinner with one person in the world, it would be Jean-Michel Basquiat. A famous musical artist who passed away in the late '80s, Basquiat has been referenced in songs by many popular musicians such as Jay-Z and J. Cole
- Enjoys sampling all different types of food, with Brazilian cuisine being his favorite
- Would pursue a job in finance if he were not playing football
- Earned All-State Class B first-team honors as a senior wide receiver at Elwood-John H. Glenn High School. Also gained All-Long Island honors
- A team captain as a senior, recorded 47 receptions for 872 yards and seven touchdowns while capturing the Dragon Award as the top wide receiver in Suffolk County
- Also excelled on the defensive side of the ball, totaling 78 tackles as a defensive end, while adding 12 tackles for loss, four sacks, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery
- Was a member of the school's basketball and track teams
- Is the youngest of four children. His older brother, Onyi, played fullback at Hofstra and spent time with the Buffalo Bills and Cincinnati Bengals during their training camps
- Earned his degree with a double major in communications and economics and is currently working on his master's in economics

33 Davon Morgan

Defensive Back
6-0, 189
Virginia Tech
1st year
Born 1/28/89 in Richmond, VA
Varina HS, Richmond, VA
Acquired - FA (2014)

A former rookie free agent signing of the New York Jets in 2011, Davon Morgan signed with the Eagles in the 2014 offseason after serving on a tryout basis during the team's rookie minicamp. Morgan spent last season playing for the Richmond Raiders of the Professional Indoor Football League, finishing third in the league in pass breakups and fourth in tackles. He earned second-team ACC honors as a senior safety at Virginia Tech.

BIRDSEED

- After going undrafted in 2011, Morgan was signed by the New York Jets as a rookie free agent. Due to the NFL lockout that year, the short amount of time he had was, unfortunately, not enough and Morgan was released following the team's final preseason game. His refusal to give up on his NFL dream ultimately led him to the Richmond Raiders of the Professional Indoor Football League. After thriving in his role, Morgan reached out to his alma mater and participated in Virginia Tech's pro day in 2014. His performance earned him an invite to the Eagles' rookie minicamp where he impressed the coaching staff and made the team. Said Morgan on his perseverance, "My motivation has always been high. You're the author of your own book, so it's up to you to write how it starts and finishes."

PERSONAL

- Favorite personal moment in sports growing up was being a three-time ACC champion at Virginia Tech (2007-08, '10)
- Enjoyed watching the likes of Michael Vick, Deion Sanders, Sean Taylor and Barry Sanders growing up
- According to Morgan, an underrated attribute needed as a defensive back is the ability to have a clear mind. "You're going to get beat at times, but it's all about how you respond back. You have to forget about the last play and set your focus on the next one."

LENDING A HELPING HAND

As busy as life is for a NFL athlete, Davon still finds time to give back to the community. As a qualified mental health professional for the Youth Development Counseling Agency, he helps inner city kids reach their full potential by teaching them essential life principles. He is also involved with B.A.P (Bless All People), a charitable foundation that was launched by former Hokie teammate and current Eagles teammate, Roc Carmichael. Its mission is to help feed homeless women on Thanksgiving in Washington D.C. while also donating coats to those in need. "I believe my calling in life is to help people," says Morgan. "I want to be there physically, emotionally and financially for anyone who needs it."

84 Will Murphy

Wide Receiver
6-2, 200
Oregon
1st year
Born 5/15/90 in Albany, OR
West Albany HS, Albany OR
Acquired - Rookie FA (2013)

A former walk-on at Oregon under Chip Kelly, Will Murphy signed to the Eagles practice squad prior to Week 4 after spending training camp with the team in 2013. Murphy, who began his collegiate career as a member of the scout team as a freshman, worked his way up from being a second-year walk-on to becoming a contributor on offense as a senior in 2012. In three seasons at Oregon, he totaled 240 receiving yards and one touchdown in 30 games.

BIRDSEED

- Credits his former position coach and current Oregon offensive coordinator Scott Frost as the biggest influence on his career. Frost quarterbacked the University of Nebraska to the 1997 national championship and spent six seasons in the NFL before beginning his coaching career in 2002 at his alma mater. He joined the Ducks in 2009 as the wide receivers coach, where he helped tutor Murphy. "Coach Frost helped my mental approach to the game," said Murphy. "Being a walk-on was pretty tough. He kept me motivated and kept it positive for me. If it wasn't for him, I might have quit."

WALK-ON WARRIOR

Murphy has taken an unlikely path to the NFL after initially beginning his collegiate career as a walk-on at Oregon. After redshirting his freshman year, Murphy recorded two catches for 42 yards in the Ducks spring game in 2009 and was rewarded with a scholarship later that spring.

His continuous hard work began to pay off as he appeared in seven games as a redshirt sophomore before becoming a major part of the Ducks' wide receiving core in his last two years on campus, culminating in a starting role during his senior season.

"The great thing about this game is you get out of it exactly what you put into it," said Eagles head coach Chip Kelly in 2011. "You can't fake it. Will is a great example of that."

- Most underrated part of playing receiver: "I think for receivers, getting that extra block is the most important thing," Murphy claims. "It's easy to block the corner, but if you can get to the second level and just barely get a hand on a guy, that's the difference between 15 yards and a touchdown. I think that's overlooked."

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- In three seasons as an active member of the Oregon football squad, played in 30 career games and registered 240 receiving yards on 24 receptions in addition to one touchdown
- Appeared in all 13 games as a senior in 2012, ending the season with career-highs in receiving yards (181) and receptions (19) while hauling in his first-career touchdown
- As a junior in 2011, saw action in 10 games and tallied 37 yards on three receptions
- In his first season as an active member of the roster, posted 22 yards on two catches as a sophomore in 2010
- Was a member of the scout team as a redshirt freshman in 2008

PERSONAL

- A first-team all-conference and first-team all-state selection as a wide receiver and cornerback at West Albany HS, helped lead the program to a 5A state championship as a senior
- Also lettered in basketball and baseball
- Most memorable moment in sports growing up: First in-game dunk as a sophomore in high school
- Favorite part of playing football: "I like it because you can challenge yourself every day and you get out of it what you put into it."
- Unique training method: "[Oregon strength and conditioning coach Jim] Radcliffe at Oregon got us to do a lot of barefoot running and that's something that I've picked up. It helps a lot with ankle mechanics and helps build strength in your feet."
- Greatest love other than football: "Fishing. That's my first real love. When I got free time, that was always what I wanted to do -- go fishing with my grandpa."
- Son of Mark and Kristi Murphy and has a yellow lab named Max
- Has one brother, Andrew, and one sister, Sara

THE KELLY CONNECTION

After playing under Chip Kelly at the University of Oregon, Murphy was very excited to receive a phone call from his former coach prior to the team's rookie camp in May.

"It was pretty funny because I hadn't really sat down with him and talked one-on-one ever really at Oregon," Murphy recalled. "So, when he called, he said, 'We liked your pro day, we've been watching your film and we're going to give you a shot.' It was pretty short and to the point, but it was exciting for sure."

Acquired - Trade (Buf) 2009

Pro Bowls: 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2013

In 2000, he was a redshirt defensive lineman in college, laboring on Arkansas' scout team. In 2004, he was a rookie free agent tight end just looking for playing time in Buffalo. Now, he is a six-time Pro Bowl and five-time All Pro offensive tackle who is building his resume for a spot in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. In between is the remarkable story of Jason Peters, who is regarded by many experts as the best left tackle in the game, and who has anchored the Eagles o-line since being acquired in a trade from Buffalo in 2009. Peters was rewarded with a five-year contract following the 2013 season that will keep the tackle in Philadelphia through 2018.

BIRDSEED

- Originally signed with the Buffalo Bills in 2004 as a rookie free agent tight end with a signing bonus of $5,000.
- Credits former Bills coach Mike Mularkey for his career-changing switch from tight end to offensive tackle in 2005. "Offensive line was one of our weak points at that point and I just remember wanting to get on the field any way I could. Coach Mularkey told me about it and Mouse (offensive line coach Jim McNally) and I got to work."
- Owns a business in Shreveport, LA, named Greedy Boy Customs. "We do custom car work or on really anything with wheels," said Peters. "We've actually done work on a few golf carts." ... Thanks to his grandfather, Dallas Wiggins, buying and restoring cars has been a passion in Jason's life. "He used to take all these old cars and fix them up. When I was little I was always hanging around watching him and my uncle, and I got hooked"

- Owns anywhere from 10-15 cars and loves taking the time to get dirty under the hood to fix them up. His prized possession, though, is a PS Freightliner "I use it to tow my camper and my other cars. I taught myself how to drive it."

- Went undrafted despite an impressive workout at the NFL scouting combine, including a 4.8 time in the 40-yard dash. Credits the draft-day snub with giving him extra motivation. "I've always been a hard worker, but I started working even harder when I didn't get drafted. I just kind of put it all on myself, I put it on my shoulders and decided to get it done."
- Started a collection of Jordans in 2006 and now has a collection of over 2,500 that he neatly displays in one closet in his home. His personal favorites are the "black and red 13's"

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- With his sixth overall Pro Bowl nomination and fourth as an Eagle in 2013, Peters has garnered the second-most Pro Bowl nominations by an offensive lineman in team history behind Chuck Bednarik (8) who did so as a two-way player at center and linebacker
- Earned Pro Bowl honors in 5 consecutive seasons (2007-11) and All-Pro honors following the 2007, '08, '10, '11, and '13 campaigns
- Joined Frank "Bucko" Kilroy (1953-55) as the only two offensive linemen in franchise history to earn a Pro Bowl berth in 3 consecutive years
- Since Peters' first Pro Bowl selection in 2007, only Cleveland's Joe Thomas (seven) has been selected to as many Pro Bowls as a tackle
- Scored two career TDs. Blocked a punt and recovered it in the end zone (12/19/04 at Cin.) and caught JP Losman's first career TD pass (9/11/05 vs. Hou.)

QUOTES

- NBC Sunday Night Football analyst Cris Collinsworth on Peters: "To get a big guy playing tackle that can pass protect like he does and work his way down the field, God didn't create many people like him."
- Evan Mathis on Peters: "To be that big and be as athletic as he is, it's unbelievable. To sum him up as an athlete, he's light on his feet. To say someone who's what, 345-350 pounds, is light on his feet is really not something you ever hear. But he can move."
- Redskins DE Jason Hatcher: "First of all, he's big. He's like 340 and he's quick as a cat man...He's just one of those left tackles that will probably go down in the category with Walter Jones."

32 Chris Polk

Running Back
5-11, 222
Washington
3rd year
Born 12/16/89 in Redlands, CA
Redlands East Valley HS, Redlands, CA
Acquired - Rookie FA 2012

A bruising back who shows a knack for getting the tough yards after contact, Chris Polk earned a roster spot with the Eagles in 2012 after signing as an undrafted free agent from Washington. Polk finished his Huskies career as the second-leading rusher all-time behind Napolean Kaufman as he eclipsed the 1,000-yard rushing mark three times. His 4,049 rushing yards included a school-record 21 100-yard games.

BIRDSEED

- Credits his mother, Edrena, for getting him to where he is today. "With everything she went through, raising me and having to make a living, she motivates me to be the best I can be and to try harder every day."
- What he loves most about football: "The camaraderie aspect is the best part for me. There's always competition between everyone, but you always build friendships with your teammates."
- Most underrated attribute at running back: "Patience. You can't just go out there and run because you need to wait for things to develop. You need to have knowledge of what the opposing defense is going to do so you can make your reads. Once you see how they're lining up, you need to know the play and your assignment, especially when it comes to blocking and blitz pickup."
- Uses yoga as one of his offseason training methods so he can stay as flexible as possible.

FIRST CARRY, TOUCHDOWN (TWICE)!

Polk scored a touchdown the first time he ever touched a football in an organized game at the age of six for the San Bernardino Blackhawks and never turned back. "From that moment on, my dream was to play professionally," recalled Polk. "I love football so much, I didn't play any other sport since age six. I never tried basketball, never tried anything else but football. I've been in love with football since that first carry." Coincidentally, in a game at Denver on Sept. 29, 2013, Polk crossed the goaline for a touchdown on his first-ever NFL carry.

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- His career-long 34-yard catch from Nick Foles at Dal. (12/29) set up a field goal
- Recorded his third rushing touchdown of the season on a 10-yard scamper in the fourth quarter vs. Chi. (12/22). He was one of three Eagles running backs to score on the ground in the 54-11 victory
- Sealed a win vs. Det. (12/8) with a 38-yard TD run in the 4th qtr
- Scored on a 4-yard run on his first-ever NFL rushing attempt at Den. (9/29). Overall, rushed 3 times for 33 yards and caught two passes for 19 yards in his first-career snaps at running back

INJURY REPORT

- Sustained a shoulder injury at TB (10/13) and did not play the next week

PERSONAL

- Favorite sports moment: Winning the 2010 Holiday Bowl as a junior. The 19-7 victory over Nebraska, where Polk was named the game's offensive MVP after rushing for a game-high 177 yards and one TD, was the school's first bowl appearance since 2002

In 2012, Reynolds earned third-team All-America honors as he amassed 47 tackles and six interceptions (three of which he returned for touchdowns). Born in Greensboro, NC, he is the son of former NFL linebacker and league employee Ed Reynolds.

BIRDSEED

- Reynolds' father, Ed, appeared in 135 games at linebacker for the Patriots and Giants from 1983-92 and went on to work in the NFL central office in New York City for 12 years. PERSONAL

- As a high school student, Reynolds spent his summer vacation working as a ball boy at Giants Training Camp. His responsibilities included cleaning helmets, scrubbing footballs and attending to the jug machine
- Favorite sports moment was winning the 99th Rose Bowl over Winsconsin as a junior. "The Rose Bowl experience, in general, was one that I'll never forget. Just as you're about to run out of the tunnel with your teammates, these big jets fly over the stadium, sending a chill down your spine. Even during the week leading up, they teach you about the game's history and what it means. Playing in that game, you feel like you're leaving a footprint in history."
- Growing up, was a fan of Stanford football players who went on to play in the NFL. Also followed and currently follows safeties that have made their mark on the league such as Brian Dawkins, Ronnie Lott, Jack Tatum, Sean Taylor, Earl Thomas and Eric Berry
- According to Reynolds, three attributes needed to be a successful safety include breaking down film, being instinctive and paying close attention to detail
- While at Stanford, would visit local elementary schools as part of his community outreach
- Attended Woodberry Forest School in Virginia where he played safety and running back. As a senior, racked up 50 tackles and three interceptions and added 1,314 yards and nine touchdowns on 154 carries
- Also lettered in track & field, setting the school indoor triple jump record (443.3)
- Recipient of the William and Mary Leadership Award
- Majored in political science
- Son of Pamela and Ed Reynolds. His father played football at the University of Virginia and in the NFL with the New England Patriots (1983-91) and New York Giants (1992)
- Has three younger brothers, Joseph, Ethan and Jason
- Resides in Stoneville, NC

COMMUNITY LINEBACKER

DeMeco Ryans credits his strong work ethic to inspiration from his mother, who raised him as a single parent and instilled in him the importance of education and hard work at an early age. With that in mind, DeMeco established his own foundation in 2007 with a mission to create innovative programs that provide access to educational, recreational and healthy living initiatives designed to positively aid in the development of youth.

Some of the programs include the Shop with a Jock initiative, which selected underprivileged youth from ages 8-16 and took them on a shopping spree for holiday gifts, as well as hospital visits and the annual awarding of 10 college scholarships.

For more information on DeMeco and his foundation, please visit www.demecoryansfoundation.org.

PERSONAL

- Most underrated attribute about playing linebacker: "You need to have smarts to play this position. A lot of people think linebackers are just a bunch of meatheads that like running into people. It's not like that at all. You need to be aware of everything that's going on, on the field and be able to communicate that to the rest of the guys on the fly."
- Donates a full scholarship to a University of Alabama Football player every single year
- Earned his degree in business management
- After his playing days are over, Ryans aspires to coach high school football. In fact, during the lockout in 2011, Ryans served as the defensive coordinator at his alma mater Jess Lanier High School during spring football
- Son of Martha Ryans and Morgan Turner. Has two older brothers and one older sister
- Married to Jamila Ryan and the couple has one son, DeMeco Jr.
- Recorded 135 tackles, 11 sacks, two forced fumbles and two interceptions as a senior at Jess Lanier High School, earning all-state and academic all-state honors
- Was named to both the Tuscaloosa News Sweet Sixteen and the Birmingham Post-Herald Super Senior teams

SWITCHING SIDES

DeMeco's favorite personal moment in sports growing up was the first time he played linebacker in middle school. Originally a starting center on the squad, Ryans filled in for the team's MLB in the first half of a game because his teammate was forced to sit out due to a suspension. "I made every single tackle in that half," recalls Ryans. "Then when I had to go back to center in the second half, I was thinking I might need to make a position change real soon. Sure enough, the next year that change came."

3 Mark Sanchez

Quarterback
6-2, 225
USC
6th year
Born 11/11/86 in Long Beach, CA
Mission Viejo HS, Mission Viejo, CA
Acquired - FA 2014

After spending the previous five seasons of his career with the New York Jets, Mark Sanchez signed with the Philadelphia Eagles during the 2014 offseason. Originally a first-round selection (fifth overall) in the 2009 NFL Draft, Sanchez, who missed the entirety of the 2013 season with a shoulder injury, led the Jets to consecutive AFC Championship Game berths in his first two seasons in the league, setting a plethora of Jets postseason records in the process. A native of Mission Viejo, CA, Sanchez started 16 games at Southern Cal and was named first-team All-Pac-10 as a junior.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Has produced 10 comeback wins in the fourth quarter or overtime during his career
- Ranked first in Jets history with nine postseason touchdown passes and second in postseason passing yards (1,155)
- Set Jets rookie records for the most passing yards (2,444) and most completions (196) and became the first rookie quarterback in team history to start the team's opener
- Named 2009 Offensive Rookie of the Month for September after earning Pepsi Rookie of the Week honors for the first three weeks of the season
- Owns the longest play in Jets postseason history as he found WR Braylon Edwards for an 80-yard touchdown in the second quarter of the AFC Championship Game at Ind. (1/24/10)

BIRDSEED

- Sanchez believes the biggest influence on his life is his immediate family. Growing up the youngest of three boys, he always strived to impress his older brothers with anything from athletics to academics. "I got my competitive drive from my brothers," said Sanchez. "They were always competitive. They were older than me so everything that I did, I wanted to show off to them. If we won a tournament in basketball, I'd be like check this out. If I got a good grade on my spelling test, I'd say to my dad, 'Tell Nick, tell Brandon'

CALIFORNIA CONNECTION

Growing up in Southern California, Sanchez was raised in an area considered a hotbed for quality quarterbacks. However, one passer caught his eye above the rest -- fellow USC quarterback Carson Palmer. Palmer attended Santa Margarita High School and played alongside Mark's brother Brandon, which is where the two signal callers met for the first time.

"I actually was Carson's ball boy when he was in high school at Santa Margarita," said Sanchez. "He was like a god to me. I've watched him through his entire career, from high school to college and then in Cincinnati. We ended up playing him in the first round of the playoffs during my rookie year and that was a crazy experience."

- Spent the past two seasons becoming fluent in Spanish and used his commute to work as a classroom. "Last offseason, I would listen to these tapes on the way to OTA practices and I had a half-hour commute each way so I would get an hour in a day. These CDs taught you a conversational form of the language and that, with the background that I had in Spanish already and my family speaking it, helped a lot. I went down to Mexico a few times and now I'm fluent"
- Has partnered with many different charitable organizations and outreach programs during his NFL career, including Hurricane Sandy relief efforts in New York, the Hollenbeck Youth Center and the Inner-City Games in Los Angeles and the Children's Hospital of Orange County (CHOC)

16 Brad Smith

Wide Receiver
6-2, 213
Missouri
9th year
Born 12/12/83 in Youngstown, OH
Chaney HS, Youngstown, OH
Acquired - FA (Buf) 2013

A versatile threat at the wide receiver position, Brad Smith signed with the Eagles following Week 10 of the 2013 season and provided valuable depth as a key contributor on Philadelphia's special teams units. Smith, who is the only player in NFL history to score touchdowns by rushing, receiving, passing, on a kickoff return and on a blocked punt, was placed on Injured Reserve (ribs) by the Bills on 8/30/13 before being released from the list on 11/9/13. A former fourth-round pick of the New York Jets in 2006, Smith spent the first five seasons of his career with the Jets prior to joining the Bills as a free agent in 2011.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Is the only player in NFL history to score touchdowns via kickoff return (four times), reception (five times), rush (four times), blocked punt and by throwing a pass

FROM THE GRIDIRON TO THE RUNWAY

After graduating from Missouri with a degree in business marketing, Smith has put his schooling to good use, working as an intern at Men's Health magazine during each of the past two offseasons. In his time with the publication, Smith has produced written content for menshealth.com, taken part in two New York Fashion Weeks and reported from the red carpet of the ESPY Awards.

"Just being a marketing-minded person, it's interesting to see how the fashion industry works," said Smith. "It seems like certain people set trends and make things popular and everyone else goes along with that. Take J. Crew -- they set the stage for a lot of things. Even for the higher end designers, J. Crew lays it out and people go off of that. A lot of people don't know how things operate in that industry."

2013 HIGHLIGHTS (with Philadelphia)

- After joining the team in Week 11, Smith led the team with eight special teams tackles over that span
- Notched a team-high three special teams tackles at Min. (12/15)

PERSONAL

- Was a two-time All-State selection and two-time All-City Offensive Player of the Year at Chaney HS, where he threw for over 2,700 yards and 34 touchdowns and rushed for over 1,200 yards and 34 touchdowns
- Also earned All-City honors on the basketball court
- Was the recipient of the 2007 Kyle Clifton Good Guy Award, as selected by members of the Jets organization
- Earned his undergraduate degree in business administration and took graduate level courses during his final year of school
- Was awarded the prestigious National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award in 2005
- Son of Sherri Brogdon and the late Phillip Smith. Sherri works at a church
- Has one brother, Josh Smith, and one sister, Philecia Carpenter. Josh played basketball collegiately at Lake Eerie College
- Married to Dr. Rosalynn Smith and the couple has two kids, Alex and Brea. Rosalynn is a scientific advisor for a law firm and also serves as the co-director of the Brad Smith True Foundation

90 Marcus Smith II

Linebacker
6-3, 251
Louisville
Rookie
Born 3/31/92 in Columbus, GA
Hardaway HS, Columbus, GA
Acquired - D1-14 (26th overall)

The Eagles first round draft choice in 2014, Marcus Smith transformed himself from a dual-threat high school quarterback to the AAC Defensive Player of the Year as a senior linebacker at Louisville. A native of Colombus, GA, the long-armed and athletic Smith garnered USA Today second-team All-America honors in 2013 after amassing 14.5 sacks. Originally recruited to Louisville as a quarterback, Smith made the switch to the defensive side of the ball as a freshman and went on to finish 7th in school history with 24 career sacks.

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Finished his career ranked seventh on Louisville's all-time sack list with 24
- Earned American Athletic Conference Defensive Player of the Year honors as a senior in 2013 after notching 14.5 sacks (second in NCAA) and 18.5 tackles for loss
- Also earned USA Today second-team All-America honors as a senior
- Finished second on the team with four sacks and led the defensive line with 29 tackles as a junior. Added two receptions for two-point conversions
- Appeared in 10 games as a sophomore, making five starts while leading the team with 5.5 sacks
- Played in nine games at linebacker and on special teams as a freshman

THE FAB FIVE

Prior to high school, Marcus played on a travel AAU basketball team. All five starters, including Marcus, went on to play college football for Division I schools. In fact, two of them became first round NFL draft picks: Marcus (Phi - 2014) and Jarvis Jones (Pit - 2013).

PERSONAL

- Played quarterback at Hardaway High School, where he was selected to the 2009 AAA All-Region second team as a quarterback, throwing for more than 1,800 yards and 14 touchdowns. Added 227 yards and four touchdowns on the ground
- Son of Marcus Smith, Sr. and Elba Wilson. Marcus works in the maintenence department at Kodak and Elba works in customer service for both Kudzu and The Game
- Has an older sister, Jasmine, who was a point guard at Walter State College
- Earned his degree in communications

THREE-STEP DROP

Talent he'd most like to have: The ability to throw a 100-mph fastball
Actor that would play him in a movie: Will Smith
Favorite personal moment in sports growing up: Throwing a game-winning 65-yard TD at the buzzer on a trick play against Jones County HS
Nicknames: "Duce" - by his family, "Big Marcus" - by his high school friends, and "Money Marc" - by his college teammates
Movie: Bad Boys II
TV Shows: Fresh Prince and Martin

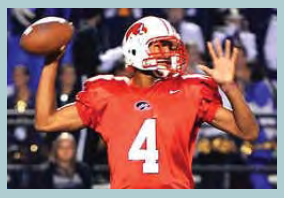
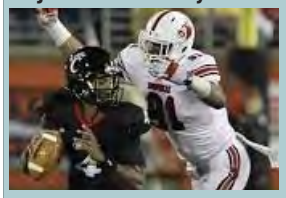
THE RIGHT SWITCH



Since he was five years old, Marcus Smith played one position - quarterback. "I was a dual threat all growing up," said Marcus. "I never played anything else. From pee wee football all the way through high school, I was a QB. I was recruited as a QB. I thought I'd be that the rest of my life."

Shortly after coming to Louisville, the coaches approached Marcus about switching over to defense. "We had Teddy Bridgewater. They thought I could do some damage on the other side of the ball, just with my strength and athletic ability. So I figured I'd give it a try."



In just the fourth year of his life playing defense, Marcus erupted his senior season as he racked up 14.5 sacks en route to being named the AAC Defensive Player of the Year. "I've always been a team guy, do whatever the team needs me to do. It was the best decision I've ever made," said Marcus.

1 Carey Spear

Kicker
5-9, 194
Vanderbilt
Rookie
Born 1/5/92 in Highland Heights, OH
Mayfield HS, Mayfield Village, OH
Acquired - Rookie FA (2014)

One of only three players in Vanderbilt history to be named a team captain three times, Carey Spear signed with the Eagles as a rookie free agent during the 2014 offseason. Spear set the Commodores single-season scoring record as a senior, totaling 99 points on 15-of-19 field goals and 48-of-48 on extra point attempts. A second-team All-SEC selection as a junior in 2012, Spear connected on 20-of-24 (83.3%) field goals, an efficiency that was the tops among SEC kickers with at least 12 attempts. A native of Mayfield Village, OH, he was named to the 2013 Allstate-AFCA Good Works Team and was a three-time SEC Academic Honor Roll selection.

BIRDSEED

- Most underrated attribute needed to be a successful kicker: "A 100-percent investment in the mental aspect of the game, as well as the physical. That's the nature of the position. The mental toughness, mental strength and resilience are things that you will inevitably need because you're going to miss a kick. It's how you bounce back from it. Training your mind as well as you train your body is important"

HEART OF THE MATTER

Originally a standout soccer player, Spears dreams of playing collegiate soccer were dashed when it was discovered that he had a heart condition called supraventricular tachycardia.

"I was planning on playing soccer in college, but I had a heart condition and had to have three procedures to correct it," said Spear. "It basically had my heart going 240 beats a minute. It wasn't a life-threatening thing but it limited what I can do on the field. It was so sporadic and I couldn't control it. When I went to Vanderbilt my freshman year, Dr. (R. Warne) Fitch just took it out and I haven't had an episode since. The condition closed the door on collegiate soccer, but opened the door for football."

- Claims his parents have been the biggest influence on his life: "Without question. They taught me what it meant to put school first, to put other people before yourself and just how to be a selfless, generous person. And they taught me that no matter what you want to do, you've got to work at it. Whether it's with football or school, I've had to invest time and effort into that. My parents have been there for me the entire time"
- On his penchant for the big hit: "I just want to play football. I love all the different aspects of the game. I love kicking the football and I love getting my head in there every once in a while. I just want to be a team player, so if that means going to make a tackle, I'll go make a tackle"
- Unique training methods: "I read a lot of self-improvement books, but I also read a lot of golf books because the golf mentality and the golf game and the swing of a club kind of parallels what a kicking swing is." Says the best golf book he has read is Golf Is Not a Game of Perfect by Robert Cullen and Bob Rotella

PERSONAL

- A two-time, first-team All-State honoree and MaxPreps second-team All-American as a senior, Spear ranked among the nation's leading kickers at Mayfield High School
- As a senior, helped the Wildcats to a 10-2 record, hitting 13-of-21 (61.9%) field goals, including a state-record tying 61-yarder
- Added seven field goals of 45+ yards in 2009
- Also lettered in soccer, where he earned second-team All-State honors as a senior, and baseball
- Graduated from Vanderbilt with a degree in business. Specialized in international leadership
- Son of Tom and Theresa Spear and has two brothers, Charley and Colin. Tom is in business management and Theresa is an electrical engineer

BIRDSEED

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

Darren credits his late mother, Annette, for helping him become the person he is today. Annette bravely fought cancer for five years after being diagnosed with the disease in 2000 while Darren was still in high school. Even though Darren was recruited by several universities to play football, he ultimately chose to stay close by and attend Kansas State to be close to his mother.
Said Darren: "I just wanted to be near her and my family. I wanted it to be easy for her to see my games if she wanted to go. She was a true fighter. I miss her every day."
When Annette, tragically passed away in 2004, Darren honored a promise to his mother to return to school his senior year to complete his degree in criminal justice.
"My mom is my hero," said Darren. "She kept me focused on the right things. I remember one time in 4th grade, I was getting bad grades in school. She pulled me off the football team - no questions asked. She said I couldn't play unless I did better in school. I never had bad grades again after that."

77 Damion Square

Defensive End
6-3, 286
Alabama
2nd year
Born 2/6/89 in Houston, TX
Yates HS, Houston, TX
Acquired - Rookie FA (2013)

A versatile defensive lineman who played multiple roles in Alabama's defensive scheme, Damion Square signed with Eagles as a rookie free agent during the 2013 offseason and provided quality depth as part of the team's defensive line rotation. Square started 31 games over his four year Alabama career, recording 93 tackles, 18.5 tackles for a loss and 7.5 sacks. He led the Crimson Tide with nine quarterback hurries as a senior in 2012. A native of Houston, TX, Square earned all-state honors at Yates HS.

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his NFL debut at Was. (9/9)

BIRDSEED

- Credits his uncle John Square as the biggest influence on his career. John was a standout defensive end at the University of Miami from 2000-03. "Without him, I wouldn't have been able to see bigger things," said Square. "He was the first person that I witnessed go to college and play. That was something that I wanted to work towards. He was a guy that set the bar higher so that I could do something. Now I'm in the NFL and I'm trying to set the bar higher so my younger siblings and little nephews can try to reach that bar and go higher than that."
- Enjoys people-watching in his spare time. "I'm a silence guy," Square stated. "A lot of people think that when I have my headphones on, there's music playing but there's really nothing. I'm just hearing the things around me. I get a lot of feedback from observing people without hearing anything. I got that from my mom. We're the type of people that believe what you do is who you are, not what you say."
- Battled meningitis as a second grader and spent a large amount of time in the hospital as he fought the illness. Square enjoys visiting kids in the hospital, as he says, "I was once one of those kids and I like helping to brighten their day. They help me more than I help them."

POWERHOUSE TO THE PROS

The University of Alabama is often considered the closest a player can get to playing in the NFL without actually setting foot in the league. Square, who won three national titles with the Crimson Tide, credits his time in Tuscaloosa under the guidance of head coach Nick Saban as one of the biggest factors in his success on the field.

"Coach Saban gave us the freedom to either get better or get worse," Square stated. "It was a guided effort, but he left a lot of things up to you. He always said, 'Do what you're supposed to do when it's supposed to be done in the way it's supposed to be done.' It was all you needed. He taught me how to be present in the moment; to be the best I could be right now. He mentally got us prepared for that. I think that's the reason that his guys go and see a lot of success at the next level."

72 Cedric Thornton

Defensive End
6-4, 309
Southern Arkansas
3rd year
Born 6/21/88 in Star City, AR
Star City HS, Star City, AR
Acquired - Rookie FA 2011

Growing up in a town of Tarry, Ark (population 8,115), Cedric Thornton took a long, circuitous route to the NFL. A rookie free agent signing of the Eagles in 2011, he provides a blend of size, strength and toughness to the defensive line. Thornton is one of only five people in history to attend Division II Southern Arkansas and play in the NFL. He was a two-year starter with the Muleriders and earned first-team All-America honors as a junior in 2009.

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Led the Eagles defensive line with 78 tackles and ranks 3rd on the team with 5 tackles for a loss
- According to Pro Football Focus, ranked as the third-best 3-4 DE against the run behind Houston's J.J. Watt and NYJ's Sheldon Richardson
- Tackled RB Matt Forte in the end zone for a safety vs. Chi (12/22)
- Posted 6 tackles and forced fumble of RB Joique Bell deep in Eagles territory that was recovered by Connor Barwin
- Recorded a career-high 8 tackles, including a sack of Peyton Manning at Den. (9/29)

"He always seems to be around the ball no matter if it is a run or a pass. He is a real technician and has really bought into what we are doing as he continues to develop and is very tenacious. In terms of his work ethic and time he puts in, it is really paying off for him. On a consistent basis Cedric has done a really nice job for us up front." - Chip Kelly

BIRDSEED

- When Thornton first started playing sports, he had aspirations of being a baseball or basketball player, but the two sports didn't really suit his physical mentality. "When I played basketball, I was a little too aggressive and basically fouled out of every game, so I decided football was probably a better fit for me."
- Most underrated attribute at your position: "Balance and moves. In college you can get away with bull rushing people, but at this level you need to have different moves."
- Thornton learned the value of a hard day's work when he used to pick peas by hand from 6am to 6pm for 50 dollars a day. "A lot of people don't realize that type of work still gets done, but where I grew up, that's all there was. I did that for six summers. It was exhausting."
- One of just five players ever to make the NFL from Southern Arkansas University. The others: S Jordan Babineaux (2004-pres.), WR Ken Brown (1987), LB David Ward (1987-1989) and DB Dennis Woodberry (1986-1988)

61 Julian Vandervelde

Center/Guard
6-2, 300
Iowa
3rd year
Born 10/7/87 in Davenport, IA
Central HS, Davenport, IA
Acquired - D5b-11 (161st overall)

Originally a fifth-round selection of Philadelphia in the 2011 NFL draft, Julian Vandervelde (pronounced VAN-der-vell-dee) re-signed with the Eagles in the 2013 offseason after splitting time between the team's practice squad and active roster in 2012. After spending his rookie campaign as a reserve offensive lineman, Vandervelde spent the entire training camp and preseason with the team before being released during the team's final roster cutdown. A four-year letterman at Iowa, Vandervelde earned second-team All-Big Ten honors as a senior in 2010.

- Maintains a huge interest in Japanese culture and hopes to one day move to Nagasaki, Japan, and help rebuild the Christian community that was destroyed by an atomic bomb in World War II. Also would possibly like to teach English in a high school there. Vandervelde claims his interest in the culture began when he would visit his grandfather's cabin in Wisconsin as a child. Said Vandervelde: "I didn't have cable TV in my house, but my grandfather did. So one day I turned on the TV and the Japanese anime show Dragon Ball-Z was on. It fascinated me and I became obsessed with it. My interest took off from there."
- Earned his degree with a double major in english and religious studies and a minor in Japanese. One day hopes to pursue a PhD in religious studies in honor of his grandfather, Jerry, who inspired Julian growing up. Said Vandervelde: "He is a retired radiologist and worked so hard all his life. He's so innovative and extraordinary in what he does. I want to make him proud."
- Currently produces and edits a cooking show that airs on YouTube called "Body and Soul" with Chef Jon Vance
- Was a member of the Davenport Little League baseball team that competed in the 2000 World Series in Williamsport, PA
- Is an avid comic book collector, specifically the Japanese Manga style comics, and owns over 500 of them

IN THE TRENCHES

- Favorite o-lineman of all-time: Casey Wiegmann. "The way he goes about his game is amazing, he's been in the league so long and is such a beast. He can plow people and move around with the best of them."
- Position other than o-line he would most like to play: Fullback. "I played fullback in high school and averaged nine yards per carry, but that was only because I was insanely bigger than everyone else."
- Underrated attribute needed on the o-line: "You need to have proper footwork. Playing on the offensive line requires a very specific technique because if your first step is an inch too short, the play will fail."
- Why he decided to become an o-lineman: "I like protecting things."
- The best part about being an o-lineman: "The weight limit."
- Best player he's ever lined up against: Trent Cole
- Most memorable block: "We faced Penn State as a senior and were backed up on the goal line. They called a run play. I ran over the defensive tackle and broke into the second level and absolutely trucked the linebacker. We got a huge gain on the play."

KEEPING BUSY OFF THE FIELD

Back in his hometown of Davenport, IA, Vandervelde launched an annual fundraiser through the Big Brothers Big Sisters program called "Big Impact." A former Little Brother himself, he wanted to use this initiative as a way to recognize "bigs" and "littles" for their achievements in the community.

Big Brothers Big Sisters

In addition to his charitable endeavors, he is also the owner of the Quad City WolfPack, a minor league team in the Midwest Football Alliance. The league has been the home to former NFL, Arena League and D-I collegiate athletes. For more information, please visit www.quadcitywolfpack.org.

He also performed in front of Bill and Hillary Clinton in 2008. For more information on Vandervelde and his band, check them out on Facebook and Youtube.

"My mom pushed me to music when I was very young. If I had not gotten a scholarship to play football, I would probably have tried to get a choir scholarship somewhere."

78 Alejandro Villanueva

Defensive End
6-9, 277
Army
Rookie
Born 9/22/88 in Meridian, MS
SHAPE American High School, Belgium
Acquired - Rookie FA (2014)

A former Army Ranger standing at 6-foot-9, Alejandro Villanueva signed with the Eagles during the 2014 offseason after spending the last four years as an active member of the U.S. Army, serving a total of three tours in Afghanistan. Villanueva last played football in 2009 as a wide receiver at Army after converting to the position prior to his senior season. As a senior captain , Villanueva led the Black Knights in catches (34), receiving yards (522) and touchdowns (5). He originally began his career at Army as a defensive lineman before transitioning to left tackle in 2008, starting all 12 games at that position in his junior campaign.

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- As a senior captain in 2009, led the team in catches (34), receiving yards (522) and touchdowns (5)
- Started all 12 games at left tackle as a junior in 2008 after spending the first two years of his collegiate career as a defensive lineman

- Upon completion of the Infantry Officer Basic Course, Basic Airborne Course and the U.S. Army Ranger Course, Villanueva reported to Fort Drum, NY, where he served in the 10th Mountain Division. While serving in the 10th Mountain Division, he deployed to Afghanistan for 12 months as a Rifle Platoon Leader. During his deployment, he earned a Bronze Star Medal for Valor for moving forward under enemy fire to pull his wounded soldiers from their isolated position
- In addition to the Bronze Star Medal Valor, the Ranger Tab, and the Parachutist Badge, Villanueva has earned the Bronze Star Medal for overseas service, National Defense Service Medal, Afghanistan Campaign Medal with Campaign Star, Global War on Terrorism Service Ribbon, Army Service Ribbon, Overseas Service Ribbon, NATO Medal, Combat Infantryman's Badge and Expert Infantryman's Badge
- In November 2013, Villanueva volunteered for the 75th Ranger Regiment's Assessment and Selection Program and was hired to serve with 1st Ranger Battalion at Hunter Army Airfield, Ga. A DIFFERENT TYPE OF UNIFORM

After spending the previous four years serving in the U.S. Army, Villanueva is adapting to wearing a different kind of uniform in the NFL. Villanueva graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 2010 and was immediately commissioned into the U.S. Army as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Infantry. He served three different tours in Afghanistan, two of which were as a member of the elite Army Rangers.

During the 2014 offseason, Villanueva decided to give the sport one final shot and paid for his own way at the regional scouting combine in Flowery Branch, GA. After catching the eye of several scouts, he was selected to the super regional combine in Detroit where he met with the Eagles, who thought his size and athleticism would be best suited on the defensive line. Despite being new to the position, Villanueva has shown marked improvement since putting on the midnight green.

"I've been kind of partially amazed that he could do what he's done," said head coach Chip Kelly. "He was training in such a different realm. I think he was preparing for a lot of the PT work that he did in the Army, he was running five miles a day. We're certainly not asking our defensive linemen to run five miles a day.

"He's been just a guy that you see every day just getting a little bit better, getting a little bit better. He's a real intriguing prospect but I'm just amazed at everything that Alejandro does to be honest with you."

37 Jaylen Watkins

Defensive Back
5-11, 194
Florida
Rookie
Born 11/27/91 in Fort Meyers, FL
Cape Coral HS, Cape Coral, FL
Acquired - D4-14 (101st overall)

A versatile defensive back out of the University of Florida, Jaylen Watkins was selected by the Eagles in the fourth round of the 2014 NFL Draft. A four-year letterman with the Gators, Watkins appeared in 48 games with 28 starts during his collegiate tenure, recording 133 tackles, three interceptions and 21 passes defensed. A native of Cape Coral, FL, Watkins is the brother of 2014 first-round selection Sammy Watkins, with the two pros separated by less than a year in age.

BIRDSEED

- Watkins' younger brother Sammy was a first-round draft pick of the Buffalo Bills in the 2014 draft after a stellar career as a receiver at Clemson. Prior to their college games, the two brothers would send each other words of encouragement. Sammy will never leave his room to head to the stadium until he texts Jaylen, "Play today like it's your last game." Jaylen responds with a phrase Sammy has gotten used to in his three-year collegiate career, "Play hard and be safe"
- Watkins attended the same high school as current Eagles S Nate Allen. Additionally, Allen's father worked security alongside Watkins's grandfather at Cape Coral High School. Watkins remembers watching Allen play both football and basketball when the former was in seventh and eighth grade
- Despite being the 35th largest city in the state of Florida, Fort Meyers has turned out a plethora of NFL talent, including Deion Sanders, Jevon Kearse and the recently selected Watkins brothers. "It was crazy for our hometown when Sammy and I got selected. We've had a lot of guys get drafted recently, but obviously not two brothers. Fort Meyers isn't the biggest town, but it's put together a nice little bit of history on the football field. We had a few other guys selected this year too with Tre Boston going to Carolina and Aaron Lynch heading to San Francisco"
- Considers himself a film junkie and tries to learn as much as he possibly can from game footage. "I just like to watch film. Any kind of film, whether it's watching another team or receivers, other DBs. In college, I used to watch a lot of NFL DBs and try to gain as much knowledge as I can from them. When you watch all of the NFL corners, they're all so different. I like things that all of them do so I just try to take little things from them and from Cary Williams and Bradley Fletcher and mold them all together. I don't want to model myself after just one guy"

COLLEGE HIGHLIGHTS

- Started 28 of 48 games at Florida (20 at cornerback, two at slot corner and his final six appearances at free safety)
- Recorded 133 tackles (four for a loss) and three interceptions, with one being returned for a touchdown during his collegiate tenure. Also finished his career ranked 11th in school history with 21 pass deflections
- Played both right cornerback and safety as a senior in 2013, recording a career-high 52 tackles, two tackle for loss and seven passes defensed. Was also the recipient of the Gators' Gene Elleson Community Service Award
- Started 11 games at left cornerback as a junior in 2012, notching 39 tackles, one tackle for loss, three interceptions and 11 passes deflected. Also scored a touchdown on a 26-yard interception return
- Appeared in all 13 games as a sophomore in 2011, starting six contests at left cornerback and two at slot corner, and registered 34 tackles and five pass deflections
- Saw action in 10 games as a freshman in 2010 as a gunner on the punt return unit, coming up with eight tackles

His interception led to an Eagles TD on the ensuing drive

THE CABLE GUY

In between his time at Fordham and Washburn, Cary worked for DirecTV as an on-call technician. "I would go to houses and install the boxes and everything," said Williams. "It actually was a pretty cool gig. I enjoyed it. Now if I ever have problems with my TV, I usually know what to do."

"I think Cary is one of the guys on this team that's all football, and he's a student of the game, and you just watch how detail oriented he is in practice. He doesn't talk very much, but when he talks, you should listen to him. He's got a great football mind."

- Eagles Head Coach Chip Kelly

BIRDSEED

- Has been an avid boxing fan since he was a young child and would watch fights with his grandfather, Napoleon. Said Williams: "He definitely got me into it. TRUE PERSEVERANCE

Now a solid NFL starting cornerback, Cary Williams took an unconventional route to get where he is today.

After enduring a rough upbringing, Williams attended Fordham before leaving the school to play at Washburn University, a Division II football program. He was drafted by Tennessee in the 7th round in 2008, but went back and forth between the Titans practice squad and active roster and was actually released by the team three times in a season-and-a-half.

Williams was claimed by Baltimore midway through the 2009 campaign and kept fighting. He eventually earned a starting role with the Ravens in 2011 and established himself as an impact player on a Super Bowl defense in 2012. "I never stopped believing in myself," said Williams. "It's important not to dwell on the tough times, that's what I kept telling myself. Eventually, with hard work I knew I would get where I want to be and I don't believe I've reached my ceiling yet."

28 Earl Wolff

Safety
5-11, 210
NC State
2nd year
Born 12/15/89 in Raeford, NC
Hoke County HS, Raeford, NC
Acquired - D5-13 (136th overall)

A promising young safety, Earl Wolff gained valuable experience in his rookie campaign after being selected by the Eagles in the fifth round in 2013. A vocal and intelligent player, Wolff has Philadelphia roots as his mother, Sharon, was born and raised in North Philly. A first-team All-ACC honoree as a senior at NC State, Wolff rounded out his college career as the program's all-time leader in games played (51) and starts (43), while making 400 tackles (4th in school history) and eight forced fumbles (tied for 3rd).

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- Posted his first career INT off of Tony Romo vs. Dal (10/20)
- Notched a career-high 8 tackles at NYG (10/6) and at TB (10/13)
- Posted six tackles in his first NFL start at Den. (9/29)

BIRDSEED

- Went unnoticed by college programs until attending a summer football camp at NC State prior to his senior year in high school. His performance at that camp, however, immediately led to an offer by NC State coach Tom O'Brien. "My parents really couldn't afford the $250 it cost to attend that camp, but they somehow made it happen and I'm really fortunate I was able to attend. As soon as he made the offer, my mother said, 'You're going.'"

EARL'S PHILADELPHIA ROOTS

Despite growing up in North Carolina, a significant part of Wolff's immediate family grew up and still resides in Philadelphia. His mother, Sharon, who was born and raised in North Philadelphia, went to the Philadelphia High School for Girls. His grandmother, uncles and cousins still reside in the city. Recalled Wolff on draft day, "Once I got the phone call, they all jumped on me. It was just exciting. Both of my uncles were actually wearing Eagles hats and t-shirts during draft weekend." Growing up, Wolff would stay with his grandmother in Philadelphia once a year while his mother went on training missions with the National Guard.

- One of the biggest influences on Wolff's life has been his mother, Sharon. A member of the national guard for nearly 30 years, she has always been big on discipline. "She's been the backbone of my life," said Wolff. "Basically, I am where I am now because of her, and it's just a blessing to still have her around. I've never been in any trouble off the field, never had any academic violations or anything like that. I graduated in three and a half years, so I can honestly say she raised me well."
- Credits his collegiate position coach, Mike Reed, a former Eagles assistant coach from 2002-06, for teaching him how to be a defensive back. Recalled Wolff, "I was an offensive player my whole life and never really knew how to play defense. I played defense in high school, but I didn't know anything about techniques or defensive terminology. I just ran to the ball. Mike taught me everything, including how to back pedal."

PERSONAL

- His younger brother, Eric, is a receiver at Winston Salem State. Has an older sister, Shanee, and two older brothers, Timothy and Joseph. Timothy is currently in the Navy and Joseph is a former Marine
- Began playing football for the Redskins in a flag football league as a 9-year old in Raeford, NC. He was a running back
- Earned his degree in sports management at NC State in just three and a half years

1943 STEAGLES

With the shortage of manpower due to World War II, the Eagles and Steelers merged for the 1943 football season to become the Steagles. The Steagles, who finished their only season 5-4-1, split their home games between Philadelphia's Shibe Park and Pittsburgh's Forbes Field.

WHAT WAS THE PLAYOFF BOWL ?

Following the 1961 and 1966 seasons, the Eagles participated in the Playoff Bowl. If case you never heard of the Playoff Bowl, here's the scoop. From 1960-1969, the National Football League took each conference's runner-up and matched them up in a consolation game at the Orange Bowl in Miami. The Eagles, by the way, lost both of their Playoff Bowl appearances (38-10 to Detroit in 1962 and 20-14 to Baltimore in 1967).
